

One Book

Living waters for those who are thirsty

The faithful witness

Preamble

*"A lie is a lie even if everyone believes it...
The truth is the truth even if nobody believes it..."
David Stevens*

This book is written in two parts. It is however very important to stress that the two parts form ONE book. It is also important to note that the word "Believer" refers to believers from all the religious groups. Believers are scattered all over the world, however, they are united in the Spirit and form one informal body.

Part One outlines the moral issues facing man during this end time period, which is now drawing to an end. Issues covered include topics such as; transformation(conversion), homosexuality, abortion, freedom, censorship, the trinity, human right and many more, for your benefit. Moral issues that provide a new perspective, and will help fellow Believers with the task of gathering the harvest.

Believers will find a topic reference on the last page of the book.

I am the faithful witness,
"Duke" is my new name.

The New Heaven

About the fall of man

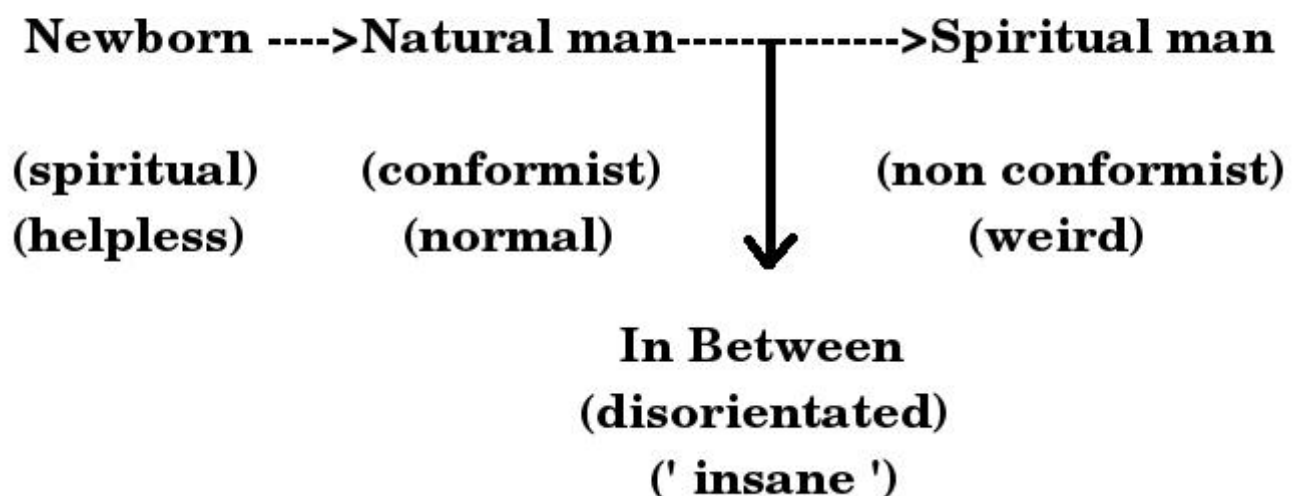

Mental Illness

*"And many of them said, He hath a devil, and is mad;
why hear ye him ? "*

INTRODUCTION

Every human being functions in only one of three possible states of mind. Natural man functions as an irrational being, spiritual man functions as a rational being, and then there are those who are trapped in the in-between position, who are disorientated. The present social order refers to natural man as being 'normal', spiritual man as being 'eccentric or weird', and those who are disorientated as being insane, having a 'mental illness '.

The three states of being

When a human being is born it enters the world as a spiritual being without blemish. During the first year of its life the being is corrupted by the world and dies spiritually, becoming natural man. This is the first death. Unless the individual is born again, he will go through life as a deluded person. Some individuals get trapped in the in-between position and are labeled as 'insane'.

The Bible refers to deluded man as natural man , and converted man as spiritual man . Those who are disorientated are in-between. Natural man is also classified into four different mind-set positions, referred to as the "four beasts" . Spiritual man is classified into two positions, those who are without guile, and those who "are in prison" . In addition there are those who are in-between, for a total of seven positions, signifying completeness. The seven positions are referred to as the seven churches in the book of Revelation

MENTAL DISORDER AND ' MENTAL ILLNESS '

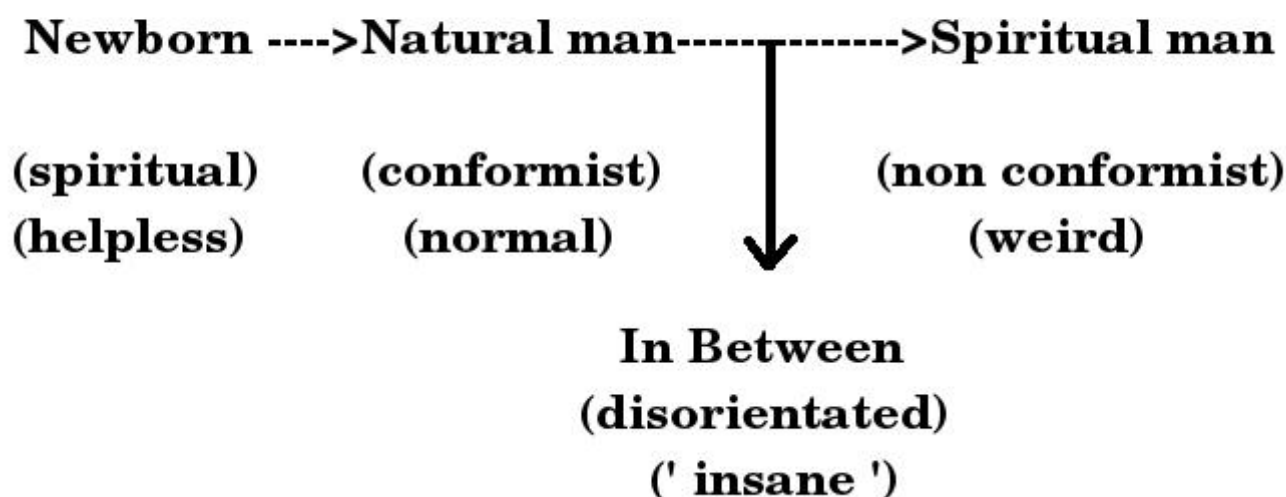

Henceforth I will refer to those who are lukewarm as suffering from a mental disorder. By mental disorder I imply that these individuals are living in a state of confusion. They are in a state of confusion because they are caught between two worlds. The real world, and the fantasy world of natural man into which they were coerced after birth. The present social system attempts to force them back into the fantasy world of natural man by means of mind altering drugs and coercive indoctrination.

In this present world the impression is that a person who has a mental disorder is ' mentally ill '.

The label 'mentally ill ' implies that the individual is suffering from a ' sickness ' that is completely divorced from the mind (spirit). It implies that there is something wrong with the individual's chemistry, or that he has 'inherited ' some or other mysterious ' sickness ' that is completely beyond his control and requires 'medical treatment '. The ' treatment ' usually includes the forced administration of some or other mind altering drug that is often prescribed permanently, to restore the so called 'chemical imbalance'. The days of the medical drug peddlers are numbered, soon they will be held accountable for their atrocities.

IN - BETWEEN

The three states of being

Referring to the diagram we see that soon after birth natural man falls from grace into a state of delusion. However he is very comfortable with this condition because he is part of the irrational social order. His behavior is constantly reinforced and in addition he is rewarded to the degree that he conforms to the system. The system classifies him as a normal law abiding citizen. Spiritual man on the other hand is seen as behaving in a 'strange ' manner and is often seen to be anti-social or 'weird'.

In addition spiritual man can sense that as long as he refuses to go along with the stream , he will always be kept in his 'place'. Because spiritual man's behavior is not completely irrational according to the norm of the system, he is not placed in an mental institution. Spiritual man is persecuted in that he is usually very closely observed and should he violate any rules, he will soon find himself on the wrong side of the law. He is seen and treated as an outcast by the system. Labels such as weird and eccentric are often used to describe him.

STATE HOSPITALS

In - between man is trapped in the twilight zone of two worlds. The real world and the fantasy world in which he grows up. He is confused and disorientated and is constantly attempting to accept both worlds. The main characteristic of his behavior is confusion and paranoia. He is rejected and labeled by the social system as being 'mentally ill' or 'insane'. As a rule he is placed in a mental hospital(prison) where it is convenient to control his behavior by means of so called 'medication'. The main objective is to coerce these individuals to conform to the system so that they can be returned to the prevailing social order.

As long as a person remains deluded and conforms to the corrupt system of this present world, he is in no danger of ending up in a State Hospital. However should a person come face to face with reality, and his defense mechanism collapses, the chances are that he will end up in such a 'hospital'. Some individuals will manage to make the transition from being deluded to being enlightened, however even they are bound to suffer a great deal of unpleasantness while adjusting to reality. In order for the reader to see what is actually taking place it is necessary that he familiarizes himself with the basic mechanism that protects irrational man, the so-called 'defense mechanism'.

THE DEFENSE MECHANISM

What is the 'defense mechanism', and how does it function ? the defense mechanism is the means whereby natural man protects his delusional state of mind. The defense mechanism protects his false sense of identity. The false sense of being that has been imposed on him by the corrupt world system. It helps him to maintain his fabricated fantasy world.

When a persons false sense of reality, his delusion, is threatened, the defense mechanism comes to the rescue. The individual feels fear and he reacts by using one or more of the defenses at his disposal. The defense can be one of the following; denial, evasion, projection, rationalization, repression, sublimation, regression and reaction formation. The individual employs the defense instinctively and is not even aware of what he is doing.

The common denominator with all deluded as well as disorientated persons is fear. Fear is the unpleasant feeling that an individual feels when the garbage that pollutes his mind is in danger of being exposed. The defense mechanism hides the garbage that is always present in the mind. The price a person has to pay for this 'protection' is tension, (stress), that which manifests itself in the form of high blood pressure and other physical problems. When a person's defense mechanism collapses the individual experiences extreme fear: anxiety.

SUMMARY

Any person whom is caught in-between the real world, and the fantasy world of natural man, is suffering from some or other mental disorder. This state of confusion can be remedied by means of counsellings. Each individual needs to be seen as a friend that can be helped . It is futile to expect the present social order to be of any help in this matter, simply because it will be tantamount to making a confession that the message according to the gospel is true. The good news is that the defense mechanism is not going to be protected anymore, so that the curse can be removed.

UPDATE (July 2010)

Any natural person can be seen to be suffering from Dissociative Identity Disorder. In plain language this means such a person has an identity problem, he has lost his sense of identity, he is deluded. It is interesting that the American Psychiatric Association is now contemplating the removal of DID from the DSM-5 and adding instead, a 'new mental disorder' called 'omenosis' (religious faith).

An open letter to all my Friends

My Letter To You

" These things have I spoken unto you in proverbs :
but the time cometh, when I shall no more speak unto you in proverbs: but I shall show you plainly of the Father. "

Peace be with you all. I greet you in the name of our Father who is in heaven. This is an open letter to all my friends. I am writing to you, the converts of this world. I am bringing you the message of hope, the message according to the Gospel.

I know that you are scattered all over this world. I know that you do not belong to any particular race, or religion.
I know that you are persecuted wherever you are, and that you are hated by this world. This is why I know that you are my friends.

-4-

" If the world hate you, ye know that it hated me before it hated you. "

I am writing to you,
so that ye may be strengthened in the spirit.
Being united in the spirit, we are all of one mind.
Although we are in this world,
we are not part of this world.

"And we know that we are of God, and the whole world lieth in wickedness."

I am writing to you, my friend, because the harvest is ripe.
You have accepted
the message according to the Gospel,
and now the time has come to be purified.
As for now,
this world cannot accept the message
according to the Gospel.
Soon the world will have no choice, but, to accept the message.
This is the promise according to the Gospel.

-8-

"For it is written, as I live, saith the Lord, every knee shall bow to me, and every tongue shall confess to God. "

This world cannot,
and does not accept that change is possible,
it is only you the converted,
who knows that change is possible.
Not only do you know that change is possible, you also know that it is only by the grace of God,
that change is possible.
Unless a person has changed
it is not possible for him to know that change is possible.
You were saved my friend,
because, you accepted the message according to the Gospel,
in faith.

-X-

As you well know the change we speak of is conversion.
The message according to the Gospel
is that man has fallen:
that he is separated from his Creator,
and that reconciliation is possible.
When we say that man has fallen,
we are saying that he is irrational, immoral.

Conversion enables man to restore his morality, to become a rational being once more.
This world does not accept that man has fallen, neither does it accept that conversion is possible.

Not even the alcoholics anonymous organization, which use the Bible as their guide, believes in change.
According to them 'once an alcoholic, always an alcoholic.'

It is like saying, 'once a sinner, always a sinner.'

This is not true.

Alcoholism can be controlled, or it can be cured.

To control alcoholism is to apply the principle of the Old Testament; the law.

To cure alcoholism,
is to apply the principle of the New Testament; conversion.

The alcoholics anonymous organization do not make this distinction.

The converts of this world
know that when the Son of man came the first time, his mission was to bring salvation to this world.

The Son of man
did not die for this world,
he was crucified, because of this world.

This world did not accept him then,
and this world cannot accept him now.

It is only a convert like you, my friend,
who can humbly say;

"The Son of man died for me, because I crucified him."

It is only the convert that knows that the Son of man is resurrected;
that he is alive.

He the convert knows this,
because he himself, is resurrected.

When a person has fallen, he cannot know anything,
he is blind to reality.

Every person that is born into this world, is guilty of crucifying the Son of man.

To be born into this world, is to die spiritually.
This, my friend, is the first death spoken of in the Bible.

I am writing this letter to you,
the resurrected, the ones that are born anew.

Let your hearts be filled with joy,
for you will not suffer the second death.

The second death is reserved for those who are spiritually dead;
those who reject the message according to the Gospel.

" Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection:
on such the second death hath no power, but they shall be priests of God and of Christ, and shall reign with him a thousand years. "

The good news is that the curse that is upon mankind is going to be removed.
The good news is that you, my friend,
have not suffered in vain.
It is no longer possible for this world to ignore the message according to the Gospel.
The world as you knew it, is in a state of collapse,
it is coming to an end.

-17-

" As therefore, the tares are gathered and burned in the fire, so shall it be in the end of this world. "

I am writing to those of you who are homeless, those of you who cannot hold a job.
If you should feel that there is something wrong with you,
this letter is to put your mind at ease.
The problem, my friend, is not with you,
it is with those who persecute you.
Those who reject the message according to the Gospel,
will do anything in their power to make you feel that there is something wrong with you.
I know your suffering has been great,
even so, I urge you to hold onto your faith.
Now is the time to be patient.

" And ye shall be hated of all 'men' for my name's sake:
but he that shall endure unto the end,
the same shall be saved. "

-1X-

I am also aware of the discomfort that those of you, who are members of the organized church, suffer.
The time has come for you to stand up,
to let your light shine.
Should they ban you from the church, be glad,
for the Son of man told you in advance that this will happen.

-21-

" They shall put you out of the synagogues;
yea, the time cometh,
that whosoever killeth you will think that he doeth God service. "

This letter is addressed to you,
the converts of this world.
I know they condemn you because they say:
'you are not a Christian, that you are lost, because you are a Moslem, a Hindu,
a Jew,

or a Buddhist.'
They are wrong my friend,

because what they say is contrary to the message according to the Gospel.

-23-

" And other sheep I have, which are not of this fold:
they also I must bring, and they shall hear my voice;
and there shall be one fold, and one shepherd. "

My fellow servants, we are friends, because we serve the one and only God,
the forgiver of sin.
We know that the day of judgment is coming soon.
We know that those who reject the Son of man,
bring condemnation upon themselves.
Fallen man has no choice,
he is the Antichrist spoken of in the Bible,
he is going to reject the Son of man a second time.
Fallen man is going to suffer the second death.

" But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God, for they are foolishness unto him. "

Have the scribes told you that man is born a sinner?

Do not believe this my friend, for man is born without sin.
Man is born into a world of sin,
his first birth leads to death; spiritual death.
Natural man is spiritually dead.
He does not choose to die,
death is imposed on him by this lost world.

Do you remember when you blew out the candle on your 'first' birthday cake?

The cake my friend,
was your 'reward' for becoming part of this world.
When you blew out the candle you were already lost.

You were made to believe that blowing out the candle was an achievement.
It was an act that came about through coercion;
it was the day of your confirmation into an irrational world, it was your first formal act of conformity, to the ways of natural man.

When natural man comes to life, spiritual man dies.

The transition from spiritual man, to natural man, takes place before the child reaches the end of his first year. When the child blows out the candle, he has already lost his sense of reality.
He is deluded, a sinner, separated from God.

This is the message according to the Gospel.

When spiritual man loses his identity,
he becomes natural man.

Natural man has no sense of identity,
his frame of reference is apart from himself.
This loss of identity takes place at the time of identification.

Identification is the process by which man establishes his frame of reference.

-2X-

When we are born,
we have a sense of identity.
This sense of identity is without language,
it is completely innocent.
We are spiritual beings, without blemish.
My friend, when you see a newborn baby,
you see a child of God.

As soon as the infant begins to develop a sense of awareness he begins to interact with his environment.
Those close to him
encourage him to make sounds, and to observe his surroundings.

The infant is now ready for the process of identification.
By connecting a word sound with an entity,
the infant identifies;
he establishes his frame of reference.

If the infant identifies with an entity apart from himself, a shift takes place.
His frame of reference shifts from the " I " to the entity that is " not I. "
The infant is now separated from himself, the spirit.
The frame of reference is now an entity apart from the spirit; an entity that does not exist in reality.
This entity is known as
" the self ".
The infant has lost his identity,

he is now deluded;
a sinner.

Natural man has lost his identity.
The I, has been replaced by the pseudo I;
the self.

The self is an entity outside of existence, an entity that is the fabrication of the mind,
an entity divorced from reality.

Mathematically speaking:
the "one" has been shifted to make room for the "zero."

Natural man's frame of reference is "zero" nothing.

This my friend,
is the message according to the Gospel.

-34-

" But when ye shall see the abomination of desolation, spoken of by Daniel the prophet, standing where it ought not (let him that readeth understand), then let them that are in Judaea flee to the mountains. "

This letter my friend, I am writing to you,
so that you may see clearly.
Natural man cannot open his mouth without lying;
he has an inverted sense of morality,
he is a murderer.
What natural man does is not a matter of choice;

his behavior is reactionary,
he cannot help himself.
Natural man does not know that he is deluded;
that he is irrational.
The only hope for him is to accept the message according to the Gospel,
in faith.

When natural man commits a crime, he does not become a criminal.
The criminal act my friend, is not a cause, it is a symptom. Natural man is a criminal,
he solves his problems by the use of force,
direct force, or indirect force.
A person who is irrational, behaves irrationally,
he cannot choose to be rational.
As long as the light is rejected, darkness prevails.

Natural man is separated from God, his Creator.
This is why natural man is preoccupied with the act of separation.
The part is separated from the whole;
this leads to idolatry.
Natural man is an idolater.
He values that which is separated from the whole;
that which in reality does not exist.
His whole life
is an attempt to explain that which does not exist, the unexplainable.

The symbol that symbolizes the fall of man is the German swastika.

The symbol is derived from the falsification of the face of the time clock.

The "one" has been shifted one place
in a clockwise direction, to make room for the
"zero".

The "zero" is disguised by the number 'twelve'.

The end result is a time clock 'numbered' from zero to twenty three.

Natural man refers to the first hour
as 'zero hour'.

His frame of reference is zero.

-39-

" Verily, verily, I say unto thee.

Except a man be born again,
he cannot see the Kingdom of God. "

-3X-

Conversion my friend, is the transformation that takes place when natural man, changes to spiritual man.

It is the resurrection of spiritual man.

Conversion reconciles man with his Maker;
it brings an end to the separation between God and man.

The spirit of God is restored within man, and the self is abandoned.

You my friend, is proof that the Son of man is alive;
that he is resurrected.
When the Son of man came the first time,
he came to break the vicious circle;
to conquer spiritual death.
He promised that he will come again,
so that this world may be judged.
This is the message according to the Gospel.

-42-

" Then said Jesus unto his disciples, if any `man' will come after me,
let him deny himself,
and take up his cross, and follow me. "

Conversion my friend, does not mean,
'to give your heart to Jesus'.
Conversion is a very painful process.
It is compared to a woman giving birth.
To deny the self means to abandon everything that gives a person a sense of 'identity';

it means to die to this world,
to be crucified with the Son of man.

Natural man's 'identity' is fabricated by non-existence:the self.
The 'world' of natural man is not the real world, it is a world that 'exists' apart from reality,
it is a fantasy world.

It is all that natural man has,
his 'identity', his very 'existence', is dependent on a non-existing world.
This is what it means to be deluded.
Natural man believes that his delusion reflects reality.

-45-

What makes it worse, is that it is not possible for natural man to know that he is deluded.
If conversion takes place, it is by an act of faith.
He needs to accept in faith that his whole life,
everything he has done in the past,
and everything he thinks he knows;
is a total fraud.

In other words, conversion requires an act of humiliation, of total submission, that is only possible by the grace of God.

-46-

" And he said to the woman, thy faith hath saved thee; go in peace. "

-47-

If a person had come to you before you were converted my friend,
and told you that you were deluded, that you have the blood of the Son of man on your hands, what would you have told him?
You would have told him that he is speaking nonsense, that he is the one that is deluded.
Your salvation my friend, was only possible because you accepted the message according to the Gospel,
in faith.
Without this faith,
you would have kept denying that you were lost.

I know that there are those of you who received the message indirectly, those of you who have never read the Bible.

Your salvation came through submission.
Some of you were fortunate to remain isolated from this world, and were forced by circumstances to humble yourselves before our heavenly Father.
Be thankful that you are saved.

When natural man humiliates himself before God, confessing that he is a sinner,
the confession leads to repentance and then forgiveness.
Confession and repentance go hand in hand.
When natural man repents,
the sorrow comes from his heart;

he weeps.

The act of weeping is an indication of true sorrow.

Our Father in heaven is merciful,

he forgives and transforms.

-4X-

This world is totally opposed to the idea of denying the self. Natural man does everything in his power to maintain and reinforce the self.

Even the organized church, sees self-esteem as a virtue and not a vice.

As long as the self is valued, conversion is not possible.

Now my friend, you can see why there is celebration in heaven,

when only one conversion takes place.

It is only you the converted, who know how dramatic the change is from natural man, to spiritual man.

Now you know what happened to Saul,

when he became Paul.

From a man who persecuted the converts, to a man who proclaimed the message according to the Gospel.

I am writing to you, so that you may fully comprehend the prayer of the Son of man, when he prayed for you.

" That they all may be one:

as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee,

that they also may be one in us:

that the world may believe that thou has sent me. "

Conversion my friend, is not an end in itself;

it is the beginning of a new life.

It is like leaving your home town and then upon returning, finding that you are no longer welcome.

You have become a stranger in your own home town.

All of a sudden you are treated like a leper.

The transformation has put a burden on your shoulders;
the burden of being persecuted.

" Now we have received, not the spirit of this world, but the spirit of God."

You my fellow servant, are clean,

except for your feet,

they are still in touch with this world.

It is not pleasant to have another wash your feet.

When the Son of man came the first time,

Peter was reluctant to have his feet washed, even so,
the Son of man told him that it was necessary.

I am writing to you, so that you may know, that you will suffer

to the extent that you resist having your feet washed.

As you are cleansed,

so shall the persecution against you increase,

and likewise,

so shall your suffering decrease.

Beware of those who make false accusations, use the written Word as your defense,
do not waver in your faith.
Beware of the doctrines of men, remember there is only one fold and one shepherd.

When the Son of man came the first time, the hate that the world has for him increased day by day.
In the end the Son of man was crucified for his purity of heart.
He exposed the world for what it is.
This world has ignored
the message according to the Gospel.
Now the time has come for this world to pay the penalty.
Judgment day is imminent.

The transition from natural man to spiritual man brings with it a new awareness.
This is the awareness of reality.
This awareness enables spiritual man to make the distinction between good and evil.
Spiritual man is aware that his own self lingers on.
He now knows that even although the spirit of God
dominates within him,
the "old person" is still present.

Spiritual man my friend, has the ability to know that his enemy is not
"out there".

but within himself.

He knows that there is a war between the good and the evil within himself.
No longer does he blame the "world out there", for his problems. It is this knowledge that opens the door to his cleansing.
Conversion is a new beginning,
a time for purification.
This is the message according to the Gospel.

-5X-

Natural man my friend,
will tell you that you are too idealistic,
that we live in an imperfect world.
This is not true, this world is not imperfect,
it is totally corrupt.
They actually hate you because you are striving for perfection.
Do not be discouraged.
Continue to pray for cleansing,
for this my friend,
by the grace of our Father in heaven,
is the one thing you should be doing.

-61-

" Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect. "

I am writing this letter to you,
my friends,
the street people of this world.
You are the faithful ones that have kept the word.

You have wandered from city to city, living from day to day;
you are the blessed ones.
I know, because I have walked amongst you.

I also know how you find comfort in the little book you carry around with you.
I have rubbed shoulders with you,
I have stood in line with you,
I have eaten with you,
I am familiar with the shelters that give you accommodation.
I know you,
as you know me.

-64-

" And whosoever shall not receive you, nor hear your words,
when ye depart out of that house or city, shake the dust off your feet. "

Those of you who still hold a job, be thankful that you have friends in the work place. I know that, at times, there are those who take advantage of your humility.

They often falsely accuse you of wrongdoing, and they treat you like a slave.

Be of good cheer, your time has come.
The Father has kept his promise;
the time for your redemption is at hand.

-66-

I greet you in the name of our heavenly Father.
I am Duke, your friend, and fellow servant.
The Faithful Witness

About the curse

A I M S

*"But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God:
for they are foolishness unto him:
neither can he know them,
because they are spiritually discerned."*

What is aims ?

Acquired Irrational Mind-Set(aims) is a common mental dysfunction that is conveyed from generation to generation. It is transmitted socially from parents to their children, and it is reinforced by the social system, by a process called; 'education'. It is acquired at a very early age, by means of applied social pressure. Man is born into an aims infected society. The Word refers to aims infected man as "natural man", and to those who are cured from aims as "spiritual man".

Who is infected with aims?

Every human being that is born, gets infected with aims. It happens at a very early age, usually before the end of the first year of a person's life. The social pressure is overwhelming and all humans beings are subject to the curse. Aims is the curse that has haunted mankind since the fall of Adam and Eve. Once a person has fallen, he will be saddled with aims(an irrational mind-set) until he is cured, or until he physically dies, should he not be cured. This is the message according to the gospel.

What are the symptoms of aims?

Aims is the only mental dysfunction that exists, all other dysfunctions are symptoms of aims. Some of the symptoms of aims are; war, pollution, sexual abuse, abortion, homosexuality, alcoholism, drug addiction, obesity, depression, anxiety attacks, murder, lying, stealing, hatred, jealousy, and many more deviant behavioral manifestations. Besides these symptoms, there are also the fabricated social dysfunctions. These symptoms are clearly apparent in the so called sciences like mathematics, and physics, however they are present in all the branches of 'knowledge'. Elementary principles are distorted, false premises made, which then lead to false theories, in an attempt to make sense out of nonsense. The 'special theory of relativity' is a case in point. Another example relates to number theory, and the fallacy of incommensurability. See " The Inconvenient Reality " for an outline of the skewed logic of those infected with aims.

There is only one cure for aims; conversion, the restoration of reason.

Conversion is the process whereby man confesses in faith that he is infected, and then asks for forgiveness by showing remorse. Once this is done natural man is transformed and becomes spiritual man. The problem facing natural man is that he is too proud to die to his fabricated world, he is not prepared to die to his world and to take up his cross and follow the Son of man. The ego is inflated and pride rules. This is why most individuals only get saved(restored) when they end up in the gutter, when circumstances force them to be humble, and to confess that there is something drastically wrong with them.

About fantasy

The Delusion

*"And for this cause God shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe a lie:
That they all might be damned who believe not the truth, but had pleasure in unrighteousness ".*

INTRODUCTION.

When we examine the message according to the Gospel we find that the main theme of the message is that it is possible for man to change from natural man, to spiritual man, from a sinful (deluded) person, to a righteous (rational) person. In order to make the transition it is necessary for natural man to confess that he is guilty of crucifying (rejecting) the son of Man (Truth). The confession needs to be made in faith, once the confession is made, natural man will repent and become a new (spiritual) person. Spiritual man is free from the delusion that haunts natural man.

It is important to know that the distinction between natural man and spiritual man is not obvious, although natural man is a totally different kind of person than spiritual man, the difference is not visible to the eye. The reason for this is that natural man is extremely deceitful and corrupt, he is able to hide his true nature in a remarkable way. For this reason natural man and spiritual man are involved in social interaction.

This essay is written for the specific purpose of helping those believers who are not familiar with the message according to the Gospel, as well as those believers who have struggled to digest all the nonsense that is proclaimed by those who say that they are Christians, but are not.

The vast majority of people on earth are natural persons, they are deluded, and that is why the world is presently in such a mess. The delusion under which this world is suffering is now being removed, the day has dawned.

WHAT IT MEANS TO BE DELUDED.

To be deluded means to be out of touch with reality, it means to live one's life in a fantasy world, a world that does not exist in reality, a world that only exists in the mind of those who are deluded. A deluded person perceives a world that is not real, however in his mind it is perceived as being 'real'. If this is not the case, then the word; "deluded", would be meaningless.

The deluded person cannot perceive reality, and therefore he cannot make the distinction between what is real and what is fantasy. The spiritual person on the other hand is able to make the distinction between what is real, and what is fantasy. Spiritual man can therefore come to the realization that he is holding onto a false belief, and amend his ways. Deluded man is unable to mend his ways because he is not able to see the folly of his false beliefs, he is blind to reality.

Spiritual man can therefore be cleansed, he can be cleansed by his friends who are also spiritual, this is what is meant by the "washing of each others feet". Natural man cannot be cleansed, before he can be cleansed, he needs to be saved first, cleansing is not possible prior to conversion. Natural man is constantly sinning, he cannot be forgiven for his sins, he can only be forgiven for being a sinner (deluded), should he confess.

Because of the delusion it is important that the believer distinguishes between what is real and what is not real. The delusion brings about a duality that can cause a great deal of confusion if it is not recognized. The 'world' of natural man is not the same as the " world " of spiritual man. In my letter to the believer I make the distinction by placing the words of natural man in single inverted commas.

Should we not make the distinction between reality and the delusion we are in effect saying that the delusion does not exist. When natural man says: 'real', this needs to be translated to: " non real ". When the deluded person says: 'I am a Christian', he is lying, what he is really saying is: " I am a non Christian ", which is the truth.

THE MIND OF THE NEW-BORN.

The word; " mind ", pertains to the spirit of man, it is a spiritual concept. We cannot see the mind (soul), it is that which is unseen, and yet, it is real, it exists. The mind of spiritual man is an unseen entity, it is part of the Great Spirit which is God our Father. Spiritual man is a child of God, he is one with God; his Creator.

The mind of a new-born baby is pure, it is without blemish, it is one with God its Creator, untouched by the contaminated world of natural man. If it were possible for the new born infant to utter words, the infant would say; " I am ". The new-born infant is a threat to natural man, this is why natural man has an agenda with the infant, the infant has to be coerced into the 'world' of natural man, he needs to be educated into total corruption. The goal of natural man is to delude the mind of the infant.

Next time you see a new-born baby, look into it's eyes, notice the innocence, there is no reflection, no approval, only purity.

Natural man hates purity, he wants the child to be like him, he wants the child to smile, to say; 'daddy', or 'mommy', to give his approval. Natural man will not be satisfied until he is certain that the child's mind is corrupted.

When the child reaches the end of his first year, natural man will put a cake in front of the child. On top of the cake there will be a burning candle, the burning candle symbolizes the new-born baby; the shining light; that which is without guile; that which threatens natural man. At this stage the baby's mind is already subordinated to corruption, the ritual is only performed to make sure the child is lost. When the child blows out the candle, natural man's heart jumps with joy, he has achieved his goal, the child is now a conformist, he is a confirmed sinner, his light is extinguished.

REINFORCING THE DELUSION.

Once the shift has taken place and the child is deluded, all that remains is to reinforce the delusion. The child is now open for manipulation and his mind can now be programmed so that he himself can become a manipulator. The programming of a deluded mind is known as education. The method used to educate the child is known as conditioning. The child is given a task to perform, and if he performs it according to the expectation, he is rewarded, if he performs incorrectly, he is punished. This process is similar to the process used to train circus animals to perform tricks.

Even before the child goes to kindergarten the parents prepare the child for the ways of the world. Should the child resist doing what he is told, he is punished. The deluded mind of the child is motivated by fear, the fear of punishment, suffering drives him to conformity. Should the child refuse to pay attention to all the nonsense that is imposed on him, or should he ask too many questions, he becomes a 'problem' child. He is told that he has a 'sickness', the 'sickness' is called 'attention deficit disorder'. At this stage, the behavior of natural man can only be described as sinister. The child is now forced to conform by administering mind altering drugs to dull his senses.

Should the child go along without offering resistance, he becomes a part of this corrupt world, and he is rewarded to the degree that he conforms to the social system. He can become a 'doctor' who 'treats' his patients by prescribing drugs, he can become a 'lawyer' who protects the system by 'defending' the indefensible, he can become a 'teacher' who teaches that irrational numbers are 'real' numbers, he can become a 'scientist' who makes hydrogen bombs to 'protect' his country, or he can even become a 'minister' who preaches that if a person gives his heart to 'Jesus', he will be saved. Whatever the individual does that conforms with the present social standards, will be rewarded.

SYMPTOMS OF A DELUDED MIND.

The deluded person is a product of this corrupt world. His mind has been programmed with that which is not true, however, in his own mind he believes that he is not deluded. Unfortunately it is not possible for deluded man to know that he is deluded. Unless he accepts in faith that he is a sinner, he cannot be saved. This is the main reason why the majority of deluded people go through life without being converted.

Here is a list of characteristics that are symptomatic of a deluded mind:

a) The person proclaims to be a Christian however he conforms to the ways of this world and speaks in defense of his irrational behavior. Such a person will for example regard the act of committing a murder as the cause of making a person a murderer. He will therefore be in favor of taking revenge by killing the person (capital punishment). He does not believe the Bible (Word) which clearly states that every natural person is a murderer.

b) The person will be inconsistent in his beliefs. Such a person will be in favor of capital or corporal punishment, and against 'abortion' (human sacrifice), or, the person will be against capital punishment, and in favor of 'abortion'.

c) The person will say that 'Jesus died for his sins', meaning that the Son of man died on the cross for his 'sins'. In this case the meaning of 'sins', is a vague concept that is never questioned. The person cannot see that he is the one that has crucified the Son of man, and that he has the blood of Jesus is on his hands. The person does not know that he is going to reject the son of Man a second time.

d) The person is very religious and is preoccupied with 'praying' in public places. He is a loyal supporter of the organized church and does not realize that the organized church is separated from the true church, which is the body of believers from all the different religions that is scattered all over the world.

e) The person cannot see that the 'wisdom' of this world is foolishness in the eyes of God. He believes that education is a positive factor and he does not realize that education is the process of reinforcing irrationality, and that forcing the masses to be 'educated' is the only way to maintain the present chaotic world system.

f) The non believer proclaims to believe in the second coming and a day of judgment, however he does not believe that it will take place during his life. He does not believe that the Son of man is a person of flesh and blood that will be revealed on the day of judgment. He believes that 'Jesus is a ghost that will appear out of the clouds riding a white horse', or, he believes that the message according to the gospel is a myth.

g) The non believer proclaims that unless a person is a 'Christian' he is doomed to condemnation, he does not believe that it is the truth that sets a man free, nor does he accept that when the Son of man is revealed believers from all the different religions will recognize Him and proclaim glory to God.

h) Natural man cannot see that all the knowledge of this present world is a fabrication of a delusional mind, it is a world of pure fantasy. He cannot comprehend that when he gives recognition to non existence, he 'creates' a fantasy world. By making the abstract 'real', natural man fabricates a fantasy world divorced from reality.

SUMMARY.

Most believers do not give much thought to what it means to be deluded. To be deluded means to be out of touch with reality. The new-born baby is a spiritual person in touch with reality, however soon after birth the infants mind is corrupted by natural man. In order to restore his spirituality the person needs to be born again, the message according to the gospel makes conversion possible, it gives natural man the hope to restore his relationship with his Creator.

The deluded mind creates a 'world' that does not exist in reality, it is a fabrication that only exists in the minds of those who are deluded.

This means that in the present world system there exists a duality, that every word uttered by natural man is a lie, and that it is not possible for natural man to know that he is deluded. The only way in which a natural man can restore his spirit is through faith, he needs to accept the message according to the gospel, in faith.

About prophecy

The Prophet

"Two plus two is five"

I remember seeing a cartoon showing a tombstone with "1984" engraved on it. The implied message was that 1984 came and went, without any significance, laying to rest George Orwell's dire predictions of what to expect in 1984.

I have a message for the cartoonist. Orwell's " 1984 " and Rand's " Atlas Shrugged ", are the two most prophetic books of recent times. Orwell's book accurately predicted the year that was to be the beginning of the end of the present world system. Rand's book describes the second coming of the Son of man exposing this corrupt world.

In a previous message I mentioned how Orwell frequently mentioned how the system uses coercion, by repeating that "two plus two is five". The reaction by most people to this statement is that it cannot happen. What Orwell was saying is that there is something wrong with the system, and that we conform, because we are coerced.

Those of you that have read my message, " word play " , know that when natural man speaks, he always lies. When natural man says 'two plus two is four', it actually means " two plus two is five. " This means that the system is actually promoting the idea that two plus two is five.

How does the system promote this lie ? Draw a number line and assume that zero is a valid number. Start numbering the line from 'zero', and then end the line with the number, 'four'.

System	'0'	'1'	'2'	'3'	'4'
Reality	1	2	3	4	5

This example also clearly shows how natural man has distorted the numbers. Now it is clear why Orwell wrote that the world promotes the idea that : 'two plus two is five'.

About manipulation

The end of Democracy

*"But they cried out,
Away with him, away with him.
crucify him.....
Then delivered he him therefore unto them to be crucified..."*

*"A Democracy is nothing more than mob rule, where fifty-one percent of the people may take away the rights of the other forty-nine percent."
Thomas Jefferson*

*"Democracy is a pathetic belief in the collective wisdom of individual ignorance."
H.L.Menchken*

The word "democracy" comes from the Greek, demos, the people, and kratein, to rule. "Democracy" therefore means "the people rule" or more accurately stated, "to rule the people". The three quotes above are relevant, they indicate the true meaning of democracy. Contrary to the common belief that democracy is something to strive for, democracy is part of the curse that rules the world. Democracy is the only way a dominantly irrational society can function.

There can be no democracy unless there is division. Without a multi-party system there can be no democracy. Democracy and politics are closely related. Politics is the process used by groups of people to make decisions. The decision making process takes place by counting heads.

The majority head count is what rules. In addition, the system of government is also subject to the constitution of that government. The constitution outlines the ground rules under which all decisions are made. As a rule the constitution cannot be altered, unless a two thirds majority headcount approves of the changes.

Democracy is based on the principle of rule. It is a fallacy to believe that democracy is a system whereby the people, the collective, are served. When election time comes, the politicians manipulate the masses to vote for them, by making all kinds of empty promises. After they are elected, politicians exercise their powers in order line their own pockets, by catering to groups or individuals, that have vested business(money making schemes), in operation. Corruption becomes the order of the day, and the vicious circle continues on it's merry way.

Democracy is presently the buzz word in South Africa. The pronunciation, here, is with the emphasis on 'cracy', which gives the word a different connotation. Demo crazy will be more appropriate. The general belief is that the system of government became a democracy in 1994, and that South Africa is now a system freed from autocratic(despotic) rule. This perception is far removed from the reality. In reality democracy is a means whereby the masses are manipulated. The only difference between the old "apartheid" system, and the present system, is that the exclusion of certain groups in the political process , is no more practiced.

The corruption of the present world system is now being exposed, and a major transformation from an irrational system, to a rational system of living, is coming soon. First natural man needs to go through the identity crisis that is inevitable.

About being rational Freedom

And ye shall know the truth,
and the truth shall make you free.

Freedom means to be free from the bondage imposed on us by this world. All spiritual persons(Believers) are free. In this world, freedom has a completely different meaning. It means the 'freedom' to function within the limits imposed on us by the world system. It means to conform.

The present world system cannot be separated from the non-believers, they are the system. This means that when the non-believer protects the system, he is protecting himself. The protection of the world system is a crucial factor for the non-believer. Protecting the system is a matter of 'survival', it requires no conscious effort, it is part of natural man's behavior. Key elements in the process of protecting the system are education, retribution, and control. Censorship also plays a vital role.

The chief censors of this world are the news media 'editors', the 'presidents' of publishing companies, and the 'government' controlling bodies. These censors have been responsible for preventing the truth from becoming known. Time has finally run out for censorship, it is no longer possible to withhold the truth, from the ears of those who seek the truth, the Believers.

The vehicle that is breaking down the system of censorship is the personal computer network. No longer is it possible to prevent the Word from reaching your ears. Now for the first time in the history of mankind, freedom of speech has become a reality.

There is nothing on earth that can stop the Believers Information Network, the informal church from ushering in the new heaven and the new earth. The reason is very simple, the body(informal church) has been around for a long time. It's members are scattered all over the world. Now is the time for all Believers to gird their loins; there is going to be a major offensive against all of us by the corrupted world system. The Believers weapon, is the two edged sword, the Word; the written Word as well as the spoken Word(two witnesses). The message according to the Gospel is clear, unless a person becomes born again(restored), he cannot enter the kingdom, the real world.

The greatest enemy of the believer is doubt, doubt comes from within. The Word is there to help you alleviate your doubts, to turn doubt into conviction. The Believers Information Network is at your disposal, use it to help bring in the harvest.

About human sacrifice

*Abortion

*"But when it pleased God, who separated me from my mother's womb,
and called me by his grace,
To reveal his Son in me,.. "*

The word; "abortion" means "To have a miscarriage". Abortion therefore means the spontaneous rejection of the unborn infant by the mother. The infant is no longer viable in the womb, something has gone wrong. In contrast the word 'abortion' (I use single inverted commas to make the distinction) means to schedule the death of the unborn infant. It is premeditated murder. 'Abortion' is the modern day version of a tradition that is centuries old: human sacrifice.

Today babies are sacrificed for many different reasons. One of the excuses that is most often used is, 'We cannot afford to have the child'. There is no point in arguing whether the parents 'can afford' to have the child, they already have the child. If the parents believe that they will not be able to provide for the child, then they can make the child available for adoption.

To sacrifice a human being is an abomination. The question is: Why has 'abortion' become a legal issue? 'Abortion' is a legal issue because the unborn baby is not yet registered with the state. This means that the state has no jurisdiction(ownership) in matters pertaining to the unborn infant.

The dilemma is resolved by reverting back to the jurisdiction that the state has over the mother. The mother is 'granted the right' to have control over her 'own' body. The 'right' to an 'abortion', therefore transfers the 'right' to sacrifice a human life, from the state, to the mother.

The reason that the word " right " is put in single inverted commas, is because in this context it means: 'that which has been granted by the state'. By 'granting' the mother the 'right' to have control over her 'own' body, the state is in effect sanctioning human sacrifice. The body of the sacrificed child is usually disposed of by the 'doctor', who plays the role of the high priest. In legal terms the state is oblivious that a human being has been sacrificed. No birth certificate is issued, neither is there a death certificate.

Life begins when the male and female cells are united, when the two become one. The infant is a gift from our Father(God), it is pure, uncorrupted, without malice, an angel. Some time after the infant is born, the infant will be beguiled, it will lose it's identity and become an irrational human being, a sinner.(see my message: "The fall of man")

According to this world, 'life' begins when the infant is separated from the mother, before that happens the infant does not exist in the mind of an irrational human being. And after the infant is born, should it not be 'aborted', the irrational human beings(parents), will become preoccupied with the task of coercing the child to become a sinner, a fallen angel, a conformist.

Remember that no matter what, our Father is a forgiving Father, it is never too late to repent for those who have transgressed.

Definitions of abortion:

About religious groups Armageddon

*"Standing afar off for the fear of her torment, saying, Alas, alas that great city Bab'y-lon, that mighty city!
for in one hour is thy judgment come."*

On the 11 th September 2001 the two towers of world trade center collapsed within one hour of being struck by two commercial aircraft. This was a historic day in the history of mankind. It was the day that one of the prophecies of the book of revelation came to pass in a dramatic way.

The world trade center represents the present world system. The two towers are symbolic of the duality of natural man, the 'good' and the 'evil'. All the nations of the world, together, formed the trade center. The destruction of the trade center ushered in the battle of Armageddon. This is the time of judgment for all the world. This is a battle, not between good and evil, it is a war between irrational human beings. Conflict between religious groups. The battle between god and evil was decide more that 2000 years ago.

The two main religious groups, West('Christianity'='good') and East ('Islam' ='good') are now at war. The pseudo Christians orchestrated Armageddon, putting the blame on the pseudo Islam religion, in order to start the religious war between 'good' and 'evil'. The objective of the 'Christians' is to stop the 'Muslims' from obtaining world domination, so that they can rule. The objective of the 'Muslims' (ISIL) is to stop the 'Christians' from ruling the world. This is what the war is all about.

The waring factions are scattered all over the world, and are now in the process of recruiting soldiers, occupying land, and consolidating, in order fight the battle of Armageddon. The battle is in vain and will not determine who will 'rule' the world.

All this is happening in preparation for the universal transformation that will usher in the "new heaven", and the "new earth".

" For here's what I'm going to do: I'm going to take you out of these countries, gather you from all over, and bring you back to your own land. I'll pour pure water over you and scrub you clean. I'll give you a new heart, put a new spirit in you. I'll remove the stone heart from your body and replace it with a heart that's God-willed, not self-willed. I'll put my Spirit in you and make it possible for you to do what I tell you and live by my commands. You'll once again live in the land I gave your ancestors. You'll be my people! I'll be your God! " Ezekiel:24-28 (MSG)

About Duality

The double minded person

*"Their heart is divided;
now shall they be found faulty:
he shall break down their altars,
he shall spoil their images."*

In my letter to the believer, I mentioned that believers can be found amongst all the different religions of the world. I also explained that I use single inverted commas to signify words emanating from irrationality. In this message I will provide more information in connection with the duality of natural man's mindset.

When spiritual man falls from grace as an infant, he begins a process of fabricating his own subjective world. This world of natural man is a fantasy world, however, in his mind it is 'real'. For natural man then, there is his world, 'existing' in his mind, and there is the real world, of which he is oblivious. Natural man is deluded.

Numerically speaking the whole number "one" is shifted and becomes 'one', and room is made for the 'zero'. It is written: "But when ye shall see the abomination of desolation, spoken of by Daniel the prophet, standing where it ought not, (let him that readeth understand,) then let them that be in Judaea flee to the mountains)" Natural man therefore 'creates' the duality of 'zero' and 'one', in the place of "one". Conceptually then, this means that in the place of "existence" which is reality, natural man has established the duality of 'existence' and 'non-existence' which is fantasy.

The duality is only in the mind of natural man, in reality it does not exist. This is why natural man is deluded. The consequence of the delusion is that everything that natural man conceives, is now distorted. In the place of love, natural man has, 'love' and 'hate'.

Because it is not possible to fake reality, 'love' is 'hate'. This explains why it is possible for natural man to 'love' somebody one moment, and the next moment to 'hate' the same person. George Orwell in his book "1984", expressed the idea of the duality clearly('war' is 'peace'). The binary system of '0' and '1', is also a symptom of the duality, the zero being the abomination of desolation that Daniel spoke of. In the new order '0' and '1' will be replaced by the whole number 1(One).

Natural man by default, fabricates that which does not exist in reality. Reality is negated and in it's place is the duality. This is the nature of the duality that is in this world. The duality is like a fairy tale, it is not real, and yet it is part of this present world system. Now it should be clear why there is coming a new heaven and a new earth.

*"Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you.
Cleanse your hands, ye sinners; and purify your hearts, ye double minded."*

About conversion

Individual TRANSFORMATION

*"Verily verily, I say unto thee,
Except a man be born again,
he cannot see the kingdom of God "*

INTRODUCTION

The purpose of this essay is to explain how transformation takes place. In my letter I mentioned that transformation is not simply saying: ' I Giving my heart to you Jesus '. The Bible makes it very clear that restoration can be compared to a woman giving birth, it is an extremely difficult experience. Before a person can give his heart to Jesus, he needs to make room for Jesus, the self needs to be removed(die) in order for real Jesus to come into one's heart. This essay outlines why it is so difficult to let go of the self, and why FAITH plays such a vital roll in transformation.

This essay is also a tribute to a man that was a true believer, a man whose spirit will live forever. Soren Kierkegaard was born on the 5th of May 1813 in Copenhagen and he died on the 11th of November 1855 at the age of 42.

There is no need for me to linger on the subject, Kierkegaard clearly explains what it means to be transformed; to become a new person. I have shortened the essay a little, however the text remains as the original. I suggest that the believer reads the essay a number of times so that he can become truly mindful of how graceful God is in having restored his rationality.

" For here's what I'm going to do: I'm going to take you out of these countries, gather you from all over, and bring you back to your own land. I'll pour pure water over you and scrub you clean. I'll give you a new heart, put a new spirit in you. I'll remove the stone heart from your body and replace it with a heart that's God-willed, not self-willed. I'll put my Spirit in you and make it possible for you to do what I tell you and live by my commands. You'll once again live in the land I gave your ancestors. You'll be my people! I'll be your God! " Ezekiel:24-28 (MSG)

A MESSAGE FROM SOREN KIERKEGAARD.

For self examination

The day of Pentecost. Read: Acts 2:1-12

Prayer.

O Holy Spirit, you who give life, bless also this, our coming together, the speaker and the listener. With your help this will come fresh from the heart; let it also go to the heart!

My devout listener, if you will pay attention, not to the discourse carried on in our churches on holy days but to that which is carried on everyday and, for that matter, also on Sunday outside the church, you will find hardly anyone who does not believe in, for example, " the spirit of the age ". Even the person who, blissful in mediocrity, took leave of higher things, yes, even the person who for the longest time slaves in the interest of paltriness or in the contemptible service of ill gain, he also believes, fully and firmly, in the spirit of the age .

Now it goes without saying that it is not exactly something essentially high that he believes in, because the spirit of the age is certainly no higher than the age, keeps close to the ground , and this as spirit could best be likened to swamp fog; but he nevertheless does believe in spirit.

Or he believes in the spirit of the world, that strong spirit - yes, in enticements ; that powerful spirit - yes, in delusions; that ingenious spirit - yes, in deception ; that spirit that Christianity calls an evil spirit

- and so it is not everything very high that he believes in when he believes in this spirit, but he nevertheless believes in spirit .

On the other hand, as soon as the discourse is about a holy spirit, about believing in a holy spirit, how many do you think believe in that ? Or when the discourse is about an evil spirit that should be renounced: how many do you think believe in such a spirit?

Indeed, according to Christianity someone who believes in the spirit of the age, in the spirit of the world, certainly believes in an evil spirit, but this is not his opinion, and so he does not believe that there is any evil spirit. In a deeper sense, this conflict between good and evil probably does not exist for him. Slack as he is, or disintegrated, doubting in his faith, unstable in all his ways, bending to every breeze of the times, the object of his faith is of the same kind: something flimsy the spirit of the age; or secularized as he is in all his thoughts and aspirations, the object of his faith is accordingly: the spirit of the world.

It Is the Spirit Who Gives Life.

My listener , with regard to Christianity, there is nothing to which every person by nature is more inclined than to take it in vain. Neither is there anything that is at all Christian, not one single Christian qualification that by some more specific middle term, does not become something entirely different, something about which one must say, " This has arisen in the heart of man " -and this is taken in vain. There is not one, not one Christian qualification into which Christianity does not first of all introduce as the middle term: death, dying to - in order to protect the essentially Christian from being taken in vain. It is said that " Christianity is a gentle comfort, is this doctrine of the grounds of gentle comfort. " Well, it cannot be denied- that is, if you first of all die, die to, but this is not so gentle! Jesus Christ is presented; one say's, " Hear his voice-how he calls, gently inviting, all to himself, all those who suffer, and promises to give them rest for their souls. " And truly this is so ; God forbid that I should say anything else, but yet, yet-before this rest for the soul falls to your lot and in order that it can fall to your lot, it is required that you first of all die, die to-is this so inviting?

Likewise with this Christian teaching: It is the Spirit who gives life. To what feeling does a person cling more firmly than to the feeling of being alive; what does one crave more strongly and violently than really to feel life in oneself; from what does one shrink more than to die! But here a life-giving Spirit is indeed proclaimed. Then let us be receptive. Who wants to think twice? Bring us life, more life, so that the feeling of being alive might swell in me-as if all life were concentrated in my breast!

But is this supposed to be Christianity, this appalling error? No, no! this life-giving in the Spirit is not a DIRECT heightening of the natural life in a person in immediate continuation from and connection with it-what blasphemy! how horrible to take Christianity in vain this way!-it is a new life, literally a new life. A new life, yes, and this is no platitude as, for example, when we use this phrase about those and that every time something new begins to stir in us - no, it is a new life, literally a new life-because, mark this well, death goes in between, dying to, and a life on the other side of death-yes, that is a new life.

Death goes in between ; this is what Christianity teaches, you must die to. The life-giving Spirit is the very one who slays you; the first thing the life-giving Spirit says is that you must enter into death, that you must die to-it is this way in order that you may not take Christianity in vain. A life-giving Spirit -that is the invitation ; who would not willingly take hold of it! But die first-that is the halt!

Therefore, death first; you must first die to every merely earthly hope, to every merely earthly confidence; you must die to your selfishness, or to the world, because it is only through your selfishness that the world has power over you; if you are dead to your selfishness, you are also dead to the world. But naturally there is nothing a human being hangs onto so firmly -indeed, with his whole self!-as to his selfishness! Ah, the separation of soul and body in the hour of death is not as painful as being forced to be separated from one's soul when one is alive! And a human being does not hang on to this physical life as firmly as one's selfishness hangs on to its selfishness!

This is what it is to die to. But before the Spirit who gives life can come, you must first die to. Sometimes when I for a day or for a long period feel so indisposed, so weary, so useless, almost as if I were dead-yes, we do indeed say this- then I, too, have sighed to myself: Oh, give me life! Life is what I need! Or when I perhaps have overexerted myself and it seems to me that I cannot carry on any longer, or when for a long time I seemed to have failed in everything and sank into despondency, then I have sighed to myself: Life! Give me life! But it still does not follow that Christianity is of the mind that this is what I need. Suppose it was of another mind and said, " No, first die completely; the trouble with you is that you are still clinging selfishly to life, to the life you call a torment, a burden--die completely! " I have seen a person almost ready to drop in despair. I have also heard him cry out, " Give me life,life! This is worse than the death that puts an end to life, but I am as if dead and yet I am not dead! " I am not a severe man. If I knew any mitigating word, I would have been quite willing to comfort and encourage. But yet, it is quite possible that the sufferer really lacked something else-that he needed harder sufferings.

Harder sufferings! Who is so cruel as to dare say something like that? My friend it is Christianity, the doctrine that is sold under the name of the gentle comfort, whereas it is eternity's comfort, yes truly and for all eternity-but it certainly must deal rather severely. Christianity is not what we human beings, both you and I, are all eager to make it; it is not a quack doctor. A quack doctor is promptly at your service and immediately applies the remedy and bungles everything. Christianity waits before it applies its remedy; it does not cure every brief little indisposition with the help of eternity- indeed, this is surely an impossibility just as it is self-contradictory! Therefore Christianity's severity- lest it becomes nonsense itself (something we human beings are all too willing to make it), lest it confirm you in nonsense.

Then, my listener, then-then comes the life-giving Spirit. When? When this has happened, when you are dead to, for just as it says, " If we have died with Christ, so shall we also live with him, " it can be said: If we are to live with him, then we must die with him. First death-then life.

The Spirit brings FAITH, THE FAITH- that is, faith in the strictest sense of the word, this gift of the Holy Spirit-only after death has come in between. We human beings are not very precise with words; we often talk about faith when in the strictly Christian sense it is not faith. according to the diversity of natural endowments, we are all born with a stronger or weaker immediacy ; the stronger, the more vigorous it is, the longer it can hold out against resistance. And this endurance, this healthy confidence in oneself, in the world, in mankind, and, along with all this, in God, we call faith. But in the stricter Christian understanding it is not faith. Faith is against understanding; faith is on the other side of death. And when you died or died to yourself, to the world, then you also died to all immediacy in yourself, also to your understanding. It is when all confidence in your- self or in human support, and also in God in an immediate way, is extinct, when every probability is extinct, when it is dark as on a dark night-it is indeed death we are describing-then comes the life-giving Spirit and brings faith. This faith is stronger than the whole world; it has the power of eternity; it is the Spirit's gift from God, it is your victory over the world in which you more than conquer.

And the Spirit next brings HOPE--hope in the strictest Christian sense, which is hope against hope. In every human being there is a spontaneous, immediate hope; it can be more robust in one than in another, but in death every such hope dies and changes into hopelessness. Into this night of hopelessness it is indeed death we are describing-comes the life-giving Spirit and brings hope, eternity's hope. It is against hope, because according to that purely natural hope there is no more hope; consequently this hope is against hope. The understanding says, " No, there is no hope"; you are, however, dead to your understanding and in that case it is probably silent, but if it ever takes the floor again it will promptly begin where it stopped- " There is no hope " - and it will probably mock this new hope, the Spirit's gift. Just as the sagacious and sensible people mocked the apostles and said: " They are drunk on sweet wine " .

Finally the Spirit also brings LOVE. Elsewhere I have tried to show what cannot be sufficiently stressed and never made clear enough, that what we extol under the name of love is self-love, and that the whole of Christianity becomes confused for us when we do not pay attention to this. Not until you have died to the selfishness in you and thereby to the world so that you do not love the world or anything in the world, do not selfishly love even one single person- not until your in love of God have learned to hate yourself, not until then can there be talk of the love that is Christian love.

Such are the gifts the life-giving Spirit brought to the apostles on the day of Pentecost. Would that the Spirit might also bring us such gifts- truly they are certainly needed in times like these!

About secrecy

Censorship

*"Fear them not therefore : for there is nothing covered,
that shall not be revealed:
and hid that shall not be known."*

One of the factors that has been responsible for maintaining the corrupt world system up to now, has been the act of censorship. Individual censorship and collective censorship. Censorship can be regarded as one of the most despicable evils perpetrated by mankind. Everyone that has practiced censorship, is guilty of protecting a system that is totally corrupt.

I am speaking in the past tense, because censorship is no longer possible in this world. The straw that broke the camels back is the Internet. It is no longer possible to withhold information from those who seek the truth. The system is now in a process of destroying itself. Everything that is covered will now be uncovered.

Individual censorship is the act of withholding something that is in conflict with the person's mindset. It is a means of 'protecting' the individual's identity. It is spontaneous, a reaction to a threat from outside. It is the way in which a natural(deluded) person maintains the fantasy world which has been imposed onto him by the social system, in particular, by the education system. What I am writing is only for the benefit of Believers, I am washing feet, helping Believers to shed false beliefs. A natural person will not read my messages because it is in conflict with his mindset. Natural man is only interested in that which reinforces his irrational mindset, he censors everything that is in conflict with his skewed perception.

Collective censorship is when a group of individuals withholds information, in order to maintain('protect') the corrupted social system in which they operate.

Collective censorship is planned, and practiced, by private and public organizations, the government, the church, the education system, and the mass media. The editor of a newspaper will edit (the fancy word is 'moderate'), anything that is in conflict with his mindset. When questioned about it, he will have a 'good' excuse for his behavior.

The reason why censorship is such an evil, is because censorship is the act of hiding the truth and protecting the lie. Now that I have returned, everything possible will be done to censor the reality of my return, as well as everything that I have to say, or write.

About torture in Disguise Corporal Punishment

*"Take heed to yourselves:
If thy brother trespass against thee, rebuke him;
and if he repent, forgive him."*

Corporal punishment is the means whereby natural man enforces discipline. It is physical punishment for non conformity. Simply stated it is torture. Natural man believes that corporal punishment is a means whereby a person can be coerced to conform.

This means natural man believes that an individual's behavior should be controlled, and the means of control, is the the fear of being tortured. The other side of the coin is to reward a person who conforms to the norms of a corrupt society.

Natural man's whole life is centered around fear. To be afraid of being punished, and to instill the fear of punishment in others. To control, and to be controlled. The 'leaders' are those who administer punishment, and the 'followers' are at the receiving end. The 'leaders' make the rules, and the 'followers' break the rules.

Corporal punishment is introduced early in the life of a child, and is usually reinforced by the school system. Here is a typical example of what I mean. What follows is an extract from the 'Code of conduct' of a high school:

'I accept the Bible as the handbook of my life.the purpose of punishment is that of guilt removal. ...punishment is meted out where a pupil has admitted guilt... ...if a pupil who has admitted guilt... ..refuses to accept punishment, the following applies.. ..the pupil is ordered to hand in all books and is sent home...the pupil will not be re-admitted to the school until punishment has been meted out'.

This is the most coercive system imaginable, the above principles are are completely in contrast to the message according to the gospel. To punish an individual for making a confession, is an complete abomination. Confession and repentance are the only means whereby change can come about.

About behavior

The fallacy of choice

*"Then said Jesus, Father, forgive them;
for they know not what they do.
And they parted his raiment, and cast lots."*

One of the fallacies most prevalent amongst Believers as well as non believers, is the fallacy of 'choice'. It is believed that an individual always has the ability to choose when he is faced with, what is right , and what is wrong. In reality, the only choice that any natural(delusional) individual can make, is to choose whether he is going to accept in faith, that he is deluded(irrational).

A non-believer(natural person) can choose to become a Believer by means of faith, or he can choose what to idolize as a non-believer. A non-believer can therefore add to, or delete from, his idolatry mindset. When he finds something new to idolize, it will change his behavior accordingly, and conversely when he let's go of an idol, his behavior will also change. What is in his mind will determine his behavior. It is simply a case of cause and effect. His behavior is determined by the way he is programmed, his mindset.

The only choice that a Believer(spiritual person) can make, is to delete from his "old man" mindset, which he inherited from his previous life style, before he was converted. This is known as spiritual cleansing, the washing of the feet. As he is cleansed his behavior will change for the better. The idea of choice is only meaningful, as it relates to change. Choice and change are interdependent.

Here is an example of the fallacy of 'choice'. A smoker cannot choose not to smoke. The only choice he has is to become a non-smoker. In order to become a non-smoker, the smoker needs to confess in faith that he cannot choose to stop smoking. He can only make a confession that he is a smoker, and this confession will enable him to become a non smoker, provided he is remorseful (repentant) about smoking. Change happens by making choices against the grain, in faith, it is an unpleasant thing to do. Pride is what makes it difficult.

Confession and repentance are the keys to change. A non-believer can only become a believer, if he confesses in faith that he has the blood of the Son of man on his hands. Which means that he has rejected, crucified, the Son of man(Truth). This is the curse that has been imposed on him by the corrupt social system. He cannot know this, he is in denial, however, he can accept in faith that he is deluded, repent, and become a new person(converted). What all this means is that any person's behavior is determined by his mindset.

About the enemy

The American Indians

"... Make me strong,
Not to be superior to my brothers
but to fight my greatest enemy -- Myself. ."
* Part of an Indian prayer

One ethnic group of people who have suffered great persecution in recent times, is the North American Indians. Today they are living in concentration camps ('reservations') scattered over North America.

The ideas that will dominate the future will not be found at Harvard or NASA, go to the concentration camps of the American Indians and you will see the Spirit of God at work amongst the pure at heart.

The one factor that has saved the Indian tribes from the corruption of this world, is their lack of education. The white man believed that if he could keep the Indian from learning the ways of this world, he would be able to keep him in 'ignorance', little did he know that he was protecting him from the corruption of this world. This has helped the Indians to preserve their oneness with the Great Spirit.

The American Indians are not perfect, far from it, however they have a sense of reality that is completely absent from the minds of those who have endeavored to eliminate them from the face of the earth. They know that the earth is theirs to nurture and that peace of mind comes from within, by living in harmony with nature.

The Great Spirit has protected the Indian tribes to this day, and now the time has come for the arrogant selfrighteous pseudo intellectuals of the North American continent to humble themselves before the Almighty, and to come to the realization that it is no longer possible to rape the earth in the name of 'progress'.

When I was a kid my parent gave me a Indian outfit on one of my birthdays. I will always remember the headpiece with all the colorful feathers, my heart was filled with joy. Little did I know that one day I would pay tribute to a people that withstood the abuse of 'civilized' man, and that will usher in the new heaven and the new earth, with the same joy I experienced when I opened my birthday present that day.

 The Native American Prayer

Oh, Great Spirit, whose voice I hear in the winds, and whose breath gives life to all the world - hear me : I come before you, one of your children. I am small and weak. I need your strength and wisdom. Let me walk in beauty and make my eyes ever behold the red and purple sunset. Make my hands respect the things you have made, my ears sharp to hear your voice. Make me wise, so that I may know the things you have taught my People, the lesson you have hidden in every leaf and rock. I seek strength not to be superior to my brothers, but to be able to fight my greatest enemy, myself. Make me ever ready to come to you, with clean hands and straight eyes, so when life fades as a fading sunset, my spirit may come to you without shame.

About the corrupted system In Memory Of Karla

*"And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, Write, Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth: Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours:
and their works do follow them."*

This message is in memory of Karla Faye Tucker. For those Americans who do not know, Karla was an American citizen who was kept on death row for many years. The remarkable thing about Karla is that while she was in prison her life changed completely, she was converted. She was transformed from a totally evil (irrational) person into a compassionate loving human being. For this reason the American system took her life.

Karla Faye Tucker was one of the individual human beings executed by the then governor of the State of Texas: W Bush - After sanctioning her execution he said the following:

'God bless Karla Tucker'.

About freedom

The Internet

"And the Lord shall be seen over them, and his arrow shall go forth as the lightning: and the Lord God shall blow the trumpet, and shall go with whirlwinds of the south."

The World Wide Web is a network of interconnected computers that was originally used for military purposes. Today the Internet is used to announce that the harvest is ripe, and to expose the lies that pollute the present world system. The Internet is here to spread the Word, so that the curse can be removed.

The one factor that has been responsible for maintaining the corrupt world system up to now, has been the act of censorship. Censorship can be regarded as one of the most despicable evils perpetrated on mankind. I am speaking in the past tense, because censorship is no longer possible in this world. The straw that broke the camels back is the Internet. It is no longer possible to withhold information from those who seek the truth, the Believers.

The difference between the other mass media information providers, such a radio, newsprint and television, is that the Internet is difficult to control by governments and corporations. The World Wide Web is like a flash of lightning that ushers in the new heaven and earth. For the first time in the history of mankind, freedom of speech is a reality.

"For as the lightning, that lighteneth out of the one part under heaven, shineth unto the other part under heaven; so shall also the Son of man be in his day."

About absolutes

Incompatibility

The Son of man: "But I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not: and when thou art converted, strengthen thy brethren."

Simon Peter: 'Lord I am ready to go with thee, both into prison, and to death.'

The Son of man: "I tell thee Peter, the cock shall not crow this day, before that thou shalt thrice deny that thou knowest me."

There can be no meaningful relationship between natural man and spiritual man. Just as French and English are two different languages, so natural man and spiritual man are two different human beings.

A Frenchman cannot edit French, so that it becomes English. In a like manner a natural person cannot be programmed to become a spiritual person. Natural man is deluded and blind to reality. He has to die to his 'reality', before he can experience reality. This means that natural man has to die to his fabricated fantasy 'world'.

There can be no meaningful dialogue between spiritual man and natural man. Spiritual man can inform natural man that he is deluded, however he cannot make him confess that he is deluded. Neither is it possible for natural man to know that he is deluded. If it was possible for him to know, he would not be deluded. In order for natural man to be converted, natural man needs to accept in faith, that he is deluded.

The natural tendency is for natural man to deny that he is deluded. Natural man protects his delusion because his 'identity', is his delusion. It is a matter of self preservation. This is the reason why conversion usually only takes place when natural man is in the "gutter".

About orientation

Homosexuality

*"For this cause God gave them up unto vile affections:
for even their women did change the natural use into that which is against nature: "*

When man is " born " into this world he loses his identity, he identifies with an entity outside of himself, he dies spiritually. This usually takes place during the first year of his life. Once the inversion has taken place, the individual has lost his sense of reality. His mind is a blank slate ready for programming.

Every natural person acquires a sexual orientation. This means that he loses his sense of reality, and acquires a sex perception that is separated from his person. This sexual orientation is not a matter of choice, it is determined by circumstances beyond his control.

After the sexual orientation has taken place the individual's self image is either 'male' or 'female', 'heterosexual' or 'homosexual'. If the individual is a male and his orientation is 'male', it does not mean that he is in touch with reality, it only means that his delusional perception is that he is a 'male'.

In reality the natural person is not a individual at all, his person is outside of himself, his identity has shifted to that which is not real, he has lost touch with reality. When a male acquires a female orientation, society regards him as a 'homosexual'. At one time this was regarded as an abnormal state of affairs. When a female acquires a male orientation, she becomes a 'lesbian'.

Contrary to the belief that a person is born with a 'sexual orientation', the truth is that a person acquires his sexual orientation, after he is born, at the time when he loses his sense of identity, and becomes a natural person. This means that it is possible for a 'homosexual' to restore his sense of reality, by means of conversion. To say that a person is born with a sexual orientation is a contradiction in terms, the word "orientation" can only be meaningful, if it takes place after the person is born.

In the real world there can be no such thing as a 'heterosexual' or a 'homosexual', any individual is what he is, male or female. It is not a matter of choice, you are what you are. If a male should have a female orientation, it can only mean one thing; the person is still deluded.

About judgment

Hertzogville

*"Where have ye laid him "..
..."Take ye away the stone."*

Here is a short summary of what happened at Hertzogville on the 31st July 2004.

On the 31st July 2004 I was called to Hertzogville for the glory of my Father who is in Heaven. On arrival at 9:40 am., I entered a small cafe and immediately began to tell the local people who I am, and what my purpose was in Hertzogville. I told them that Paul Meintjies would be raised up to the glory of God, and for the glorification of his Son. I told them clearly that today was the day of judgment.

At the time I also requested to see Mr. Nico Foulds, the local undertaker. The lady at the table, was so kind as to look for him and told me that he was busy at the time. I asked the lady to tell him to be on standby for the day, so that I could enter the mortuary at the appropriate time. At the time the lady gave Mr. Foulds my message she also gave me Nico's cell number in case I wanted to contact him.

While talking to the locals I was approached by two members of the E-News television team. I repeated what I had told the local people and told them that that Paul Meintjies would come alive before the sun sets that day. They then did interview me on camera, using a local man(Hannes), and his wife to question me for the interview.

Some time later Nico did arrive and I had a brief conversation with him. I requested him to go across the street and ask the Meintjies family and the prophet, David Francis, if they would be prepared to talk to me. He obliged and when he returned he told me that it was not possible, as it was their sabbath.

Hertzogville was quiet and it seemed to be just another day in the life of a small Free State town. The E-News couple was the only people I saw from the media, and I noticed that they spent time interviewing various local people. I moved my car to the front of the Meintjies house and remained in the car hoping that they the (Meintjies family) would invite me in.

The E-News team left town at approximately 3.40 pm. After they left I got in my car and went to look for the mortuary. While looking, a man approached me saying that I had spoken to his wife earlier and that they would like me to be their guest at their in-law's house. I accepted and had some tea with the family. I was also told that I was welcome to sleep over at their house if need be. After briefly outlining to them what was taking place, they asked me if it would be in order if they came to the mortuary to see what happened. I said I had no objection and left for the mortuary at about 4:40pm.

After driving around a while I arrived at the mortuary at about 4.50. I SMSed the undertaker, Nico, to come to his office. After waiting a while I asked The Father to raise up Paul Meintjies to the glory of God and so that His Son can be glorified. I had no access to the the building and stood in front of the door.

In the meantime the family that invited me for tea, a man, wife and three children, had arrived and where standing on the corner of the street opposite the mortuary. I approached the man and asked him to come with me to fetch Nico the undertaker. We drove to his house and after knocking on the door for some time, there was no reply. I noticed that the TV was on. We returned to the mortuary and waited until sunset. After sunset I took the family home and returned to Bloemfontein.

The family that accompanied me is the only glimmer of hope I saw in this dark and ugly world that is now falling apart. Paul Meintjies was left to die his second death in an ice box.

"Nevertheless when the Son of man cometh, shall he find faith on the earth ? "

Addendum:18/12/2009

Here is a transcript of the Hertzogville TV interview from the documentary: "Arise! The Story of a Town".

Presenter:

The end of the month arrived, and with it an unexpected twist.

Me:

I am the faithful witness. I am here to raise up Paul Meintjies. Today is judgment day. It is the last day.

Presenter:

A man arrived from the Cape. In the local coffee shop he explained his role to skeptical town folk.

Question:

Who will raise him, uncle or the prophet?(sub-script)

Me:

The role of the prophet was to make sure that Paul Meintjies was not buried. That was his role. That is the role that he had to play. Now the time has come for Paul Meintjies to rise, so that the world may know that the Father has sent me to judge the world. Those who reject me, are condemned. I come in the name of my Father who has sent me.

Question:

Jesus was buried, why couldn't uncle Paul be buried. Surely he can be raised from the grave?(sub-script)

Me:

Everything that is happening is happening to the glory of God, and it is not for me to question why it's not....

It is written, if you look in the book of Revelation, it is written that the body will not be buried.

Presenter:

The faithful witness spent most of the day sleeping in his car in front of the Meintjies home. The family and the prophet refused to see him. He later tells us that he did go to the morgue and did raise Meintjies from the dead. He however blames the undertaker for not unlocking the morgue door.

This of course caused the resurrected Meintjies to promptly freeze again, and die,.... again.

End of E-TV documentary interview.

Note: The question is whether this historical documentary will become public domain, or whether it will remain hidden in the E-TV archive.

About submission

The Koran

The Opening

- 1. Praise be to Allah, Lord of the Worlds.*
- 2. The Beneficent, the Merciful.*
- 3. Owner of the Day of Judgment.*
- 4. Thee we worship; Thee we ask for help.*
- 5. Show us the straight path,*
- 6. The path of those whom Thou hast favoured;*
- 7. Not of those who earn Thine anger nor of those who go astray.*

The above is a quote from the first chapter of the Koran. This opening statement is an essential part of the Muslim worship, and is referred to as " the Lord's Prayer " of the Muslims.

In my letter to the believer, I mentioned that the number " seven " , denotes completeness. Notice that the opening statement of the Koran has seven verses. This means that the opening statement is complete. It is also a summary of the Koran.

The Koran reminds believers that there is only one God, that in this world there are two kinds of people, and that there is coming a day of judgment. These thoughts are not very comforting for those who do not believe the gospel.

The 'ethnic cleansing' that has taken place in Bosnia, is a sign of the times. In my letter I mentioned that the harvest is ripe, and the day of judgment is coming soon, be warned; believers are dying for a cause.

The word " Islam " means total submission to God, for those believers that are skeptical, let me remind you, total submission, is what the message according to the gospel is all about.

" Say: O People of the Scripture! Ye have naught till ye observe the Torah and the Gospel and that which was revealed unto you from your Lord. That which is revealed unto you (Muhammad) from thy Lord is certain to increase the contumacy and disbelief of many of them. But grieve not for the disbelieving folk." Surah 5:68

About separation Descartes

' Cogito ergo sum.'
(' I think; therefore I am.')

"Beware lest any man spoil you through philosophy and vain deceit, after the tradition of men ,
after the rudiments of the world,
and not after Christ."

It is generally accepted that 'the father of modern philosophy' is, Rene Descartes. It is Descartes who coined the phrase: 'I think, therefore I am '. His original statement was:

' Je pense, donc je suis ' - 'I am thinking therefore I am'.

The father of modern philosophy is reaffirming the credo of natural man: 'I exist, because I am not sure of anything'. For any person to say: 'Because I doubt, I exist', can only mean one thing; the person is not sure that he exists. This is the mindset of natural man.

'I think, therefore I am', translated into reality means: ' I doubt, therefore I am(exist), I am not(I do not exist).' This is the nature of the duality of the irrational mindset.

In his book " Irrational man." William Barrett writes the following:

' By doubting all things Descartes arrived at a single certainty: the existence of his own consciousness '.

This statement that Barrett makes, makes no sense at all. Descartes cannot doubt 'all things', and then be certain of his own existence. This means he excludes himself from 'all things'. Descartes is saying: 'all things', are 'not all things', 'A is not-A' , a contradiction.

In view of the above, it is not surprising that Descartes separated 'mind' from 'matter'. This dualism is the philosophy of natural man, in contrast we have the message according to the Gospel, the philosophy of spiritual man, unity.

Consciousness Gurus

*"The 'second coming of Christ' is a transformation of human consciousness, a shift from time to presence,
from thinking to pure consciousness,
Eckhart Tolle(The power of now)*

*Gather ye together first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them:
but gather wheat into my barn.*

Introduction

The harvest is ripe, the time has come, the time of judgment. I am here to bring judgment to the living, and to the dead. I come in the name of my Father who sent me, those who reject me, reject Him who sent me, they bring condemnation upon themselves.

The purpose of this message is to separate the sheep from the goats by alleviating the misconceptions propagated by the consciousness gurus. I am using 'The power of now' by Eckart Tolle as a reference (his latest book 'A New Earth' is even more confusing than 'The power of now'). This does not mean that all consciousness gurus are in agreement with Mr Tolle. There are many different variations of the theme, however the main idea is 'the evolution of consciousness', which is a misconception.

It is necessary to point out that Mr.Tolle is inconsistent in that he wavers between two opposing concepts, that of absolutism, and that of relativism.

He has covered both bases. At times he speaks of 'consciousness and unconsciousness', and then at times, he speaks of 'the evolution of consciousness' or 'a new consciousness'. This points to an inconsistency in Mr.Tolle's writings . In 'The power of now' Mr.Tolle explains that there is a 'new' and easy way to enter the kingdom. Page 188

It is very sad that Mr.Tolle quotes the faithful witness(Son of man) out of context, and refers to Him in both his books. At the same time Mr.Tolle indirectly calls the Son of man a liar. See Mr. Tolle's quote at the beginning of this message. When the Son of man came the first time, he made it clear that he will come again(John 14:3). All Mr.Tolle's books are misleading in that they show a complete lack of insight into the message according to the Gospel. Mr.Tolle has fabricated a 'new gospel', the gospel of 'Now'. We have a 'new Messiah', the 'Messiah' has gone commercial, he is now in business to make money.

The Way Of The Cross

The consciousness gurus have an alternative to "the way of the cross". They refer to it in many different ways; self-enlightenment, spiritual awakening, the flowering of human consciousness, spiritual journey etc. To get a better insight into one of these alternatives, we will examine Mr.Tolle's version as described in 'The power of now'.

I quote Mr. Tolle:

" The way of the cross that you mentioned is the old way to enlightenment, and until recently it was the only way. But don't dismiss it or underestimate its efficacy. It still works."

Translated this means the following: When the Son of man came the first time he said for us to take up our cross and follow him, to suffer the consequence of our transgression and become born again.

I say, do not despair, I have found a new way to enlightenment(conversion), a quick fix, an easy out. (Keep in mind that Mr.Tolle became born again(converted), the 'old way', The way of the cross.)

Let us take a look at Mr.Tolle's 'new way'.

I quote Mr.Tolle: 'Enlightenment consciously chosen means to relinquish your attachment to past and future and to make the Now the main focus of your life. It means to dwell in the state of presence rather than in time. It means saying yes to what is. You don't need pain anymore. How much more time do you think you will need before you are able to say ' I will create no more pain, no more suffering?' How much more pain do you need before you can make that choice?'

Now here is the problem with Mr.Tolle's quick fix. First of all, it negates reality, cause and effect. The suffering comes from idolatry, and cannot just be wished away by choosing to 'dwell in the state of presence'. The idolatry has to be removed. The defense mechanism protects the idolatry(delusion) and has to be broken down by an act of confession. The deluded person cannot know that he is deluded, in his mind he is okay, which means he has to accept in faith that he is deluded.

Secondly, the deluded person does not 'create pain' by living in 'time'. The idolatry(values) which presently exist in his mind, results in emotions which rule his life, and causes pain. He is at the mercy of his feelings. When his values are threatened the deluded person feels fear, his false identity is in danger. He has fabricated a fantasy world which is divorced from reality, and as long as his defense mechanism protect this fantasy world, he will suffer. The easy out that Mr.Tolle is advocating will prolong the person's suffering until such time that he accepts in faith that he is deluded(Mr.Tolle's unconsciousness).

Guru Misconceptions

Nowhere in his books does Mr. Tolle mention the first and most important commandment, the transgression that leads to all other transgressions: "Thou shalt have no other gods before me"(idolatry) Once the individual falls from grace, during the first year of his life, the process of building his idolatry base commences. He has become an empty computer disk drive(blackboard), ready to be programmed(indoctrinated) through a process called 'education'. The greater the accumulation of idols, the greater the degree of corruption, self esteem, and delusion. The persons self defense mechanism protects his corrupted mind. Until such a person turns to the way of the cross, he will remain deluded.

Mr.Tolle is reinforcing the fantasy world of the deluded person by suggesting that he can escape from his delusion, by just pretending that there is no past or future, that there is only Now. The idolatry comes from his past, the individual needs to take responsibility and let go of his idolatry. There is no short cut, when his defense mechanism collapses, and this is crucial, he is going to feel fear, and even anxiety, depending on how deluded he is. He needs to endure the pain until he lets go. No pain no gain. When the Son of man came the first time he made it clear that the restoration(salvation/conversion) of the mind is a painful process.

Mr. Tolle has heard the sound of the bell, however he does not know where the gong is. His explanation of the source of fear is totally off base. Emotions are value(idolatry) responses, and manifest in many different ways, fear, anger,resentment, revenge, violence etc. Emotions are disruptive and cannot be trusted.

Conclusion

In order to keep this message as short as possible I will not go into more details, sufficient to say that Mr.Tolle's gospel is just as misleading as the pseudo Christian gospel. All you have to do in order to be born again (converted/restored/enlightened), is to 'give your heart to Jesus', or, according to Mr.Tolle "choose to dwell is the state of presence."

In conclusion I quote another misconception held by Mr. Tolle: 'Many misunderstandings and false beliefs about Christ will clear if you realize that there is no past or future in Christ. To say that Christ was or will be is a contradiction in terms. Jesus was. He was a man that lived two thousand years ago...' Page 86

The reality is that I am, that I am alive now, that I was alive two thousand years ago, that I will be alive two thousand years hence, and that I am writing this message now. I am the way, the truth, and the life, nobody comes to the Father except through me. Those who know me, will soon recognize me.

"And if I go and prepare a place for you.
I will come again, and receive you unto myself;
that where I am, there ye may be also."

About granting privileges

'Human Rights'

"Every person is entitled to certain rights – simply by the fact that they are a human being. They are "rights" because they are things you are allowed to be, to do or to have."

Quote from: Youthforhumanrights.org

"But I fear, lest by any means, as the serpent beguiled Eve through his subtilty, so your minds should be corrupted from the simplicity that is in Christ "

The corruption of the world system is blatantly obvious in the idea of 'human rights'. It is blatantly obvious in the above mentioned quote from the youthforhumanrights organization: 'they are things you are allowed to be, to do or to have'. (my emphasis)

The question is this: Allowed by whom ? Who is it that grants these 'rights' ? From whence comes the permission ? Whom is the giver ? The answer is obvious; the state, the corrupted system which has been fabricated by irrational man.

There can be no such thing as 'rights' unless they are granted. The word 'right' implies " to grant or to give permission", 'rights' have to be given. Without this connotation the word 'right' becomes meaningless. The masses are being told that they have a 'right' to: shelter, food, medical aid, water, free speech, education, transport, information, shop, property, walk, ride a bicycle, smile :-) etc.

'Rights' are now allocated to: children, parents, animals, prisoners, producers, consumers, homeowners, street people, criminals, drivers, pedestrians, companies, employers, employees, men, women, families, smokers, drinkers, fanatics, etc.

It is astonishing that natural man is so gullible that he accepts all this nonsense without question. The concept of 'rights', can be classified as Orwellian, despotic. The key element in this kind of discourse is control. 'Rights' and 'duties' go hand in hand. For every 'right' there is a 'duty'. The 'duty' is now called a 'responsibility'. The 'duty' is to be a 'good' citizen, to conform to that which is dictated. 'Human rights' are concessions 'granted' by the state, to those whom conform to the system.

Those who do not conform to the system, lose their 'rights' in the twinkling of an eye. They become enemies of the state, criminals. This is why the Son of man was crucified more than two thousand years ago. However they did not count on him being resurrected, nor did they count on him returning some day. They do not know that they will now be held accountable. The day has dawned, soon every tongue shall confess.

About unity

Fallacy of the 'trinity'

*Why callest thou me good?
there is none good but one,
that is, God.*

One of the topics I did not mention in my letter, is the so called 'trinity'. This is the belief that the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost, are three 'persons' that, together, form the 'trinity', also referred to as the 'godhead'.

The Oxford dictionary give the following definition for the word 'trinity'; "group of three, union of three persons (Father, Son, Holy Ghost) in one Godhead- doctrine of this". : The word trinity therefore means " a set of three ". The doctrine of the trinity describes the 'Father', the 'Son', and the 'Holy Spirit' as three separate entities, forming a 'unity'. The obvious contradiction in the statement is not apparent to natural man. The doctrine of the 'trinity' is a symptom of fallen(natural) man.

When the part is separated from the whole, the part becomes another 'whole', a pseudo whole. Those who believe in the trinity worship three separate 'Gods'; God the 'Father', 'God' the 'Son', and 'God' the 'Holy Ghost', this is the nature of idolatry. This separation opens the door to idolize anything, and consequently natural man is an idolater.

The idea of The Father, The Son, and The Holy Ghost, refers to the Whole(Father), the Part(s){Son(s)}, and the Holy Spirit(Spirit of unity) which is the togetherness between The Father and The Son(s). It means complete wholeness without fragmentation, it is the Spirit of unity within the body of Believers, the uniting force.

A Believer can sin against The Whole(Father), or against The Part(Son), however, he cannot sin against The Holy Spirit. A Believer's sins can therefore be forgiven, because he believes that The Son cannot be separated from The Father. The Believer knows that the Father is greater than The Son, consequently he does not worship The Son, only The Father. "The Son" refers to the only begotten Son, the Son of man. The plural "sons", refers to those who are converted, the Believers.

A non-Believer on the other hand, commits the unpardonable sin, he believes that the Part can be separated from the Whole. He sins against the Spirit of unity. A non-believer can only be forgiven when he confesses in faith that he is a sinner, he cannot be forgiven for committing a sin, he is constantly sinning against the Holy Ghost(the Spirit of unity). He worships the 'Gods' of this world.

There is only One Father, the scripture is clear on this point (See the references below, also read John chapter 17). We, the Believers, worship the One and only Father, Elohim, the Great Spirit who is All knowing, Omnipresent, Almighty, and to Him alone, belongs the Kingdom, the Power and the Glory for ever and ever.

As for me, I am the firstborn of the brethren(Believers), the mediator, the means to salvation.

"Hear, O Israel: The LORD our God is one LORD: "

Deuteronomy 6:4

"I will also praise thee with the psaltery, even thy truth, O my God: unto thee will I sing with the harp, O thou Holy One of Israel. "

Psalms 21:22

"Yea, they turned back and tempted God, and limited the Holy One of Israel. "

Psalms 78:41

"For thy Maker is thine husband; the LORD of hosts is his name; and thy Redeemer the Holy One of Israel; The God of the whole earth shall he be called. "

Isaiah 54:5

"I will not execute the fierceness of mine anger, I will not return to destroy Ephraim: for I am God, and not man; the Holy One in the midst of thee: and I will not enter into the city. "Hosea 11:8

"And Jesus said unto him, Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, that is, God. "

"One God and Father of all, who is above all, and through all, and in you all. "

Ephesians 4:6

"For there is one God, and one mediator between God and men, the man Christ Jesus; "

1 Timothy 2:5

"In the beginning the Word was, and the Word was with God, and the Word was a god."

About evil

(The Only Evil on Earth)

comes from the corrupted mind of man.*

The state of the human mind is an absolute. Every individual who reads this message can only have one of two mindsets, a rational mindset or an irrational mindset. Those individuals who are so unfortunate to be caught up in between, are disorientated, and are usually institutionalized. To be rational, or to be irrational, is a state of mind. The modus operandi of an rational mindset(Believer), is totally different from that of a irrational mindset(conformist).

The words "rational" and "reason" are derived from the word "ratio", meaning "a reckoning", a "fixed" relation. To be more specific, the relationship between the whole and the part. Reason means the ability to draw conclusions in a specific manner, a process of the mind that is reasonable. As a noun, "reason", means "justification".

The rational mindset functions on the principle of all, and part of all. There is a connection (ratio) between part of the whole. The irrational mindset separates the part from the whole, so that the 'part' becomes a new(fabricated) entity, a second whole. When man loses his identity, his mindset changes from rational to irrational. He becomes disconnected from reality and he fabricates his own 'reality'. A person who is separated from reality is referred to as a deluded person, he then suffers under his own delusion.

When a person is born, he is born with a rational mindset, he is uncorrupted creation, without blemish. Unfortunately soon after birth the individual identifies with one of his parents, and he loses his identity, his mindset changes, from rational to irrational. This fall from grace happens to all, and once it has taken place, our minds are open to be programmed to conform to the corrupted world we live in. Being part of the corrupted world, irrational man by default, defends his world with all his might. In reality he is defending his own identity. He becomes a devout conformist.

The world we now live in, is a product of the irrational mindset. Everything that is wrong with this world comes from irrational man. The only evil on earth is the irrational mindset. Natural man has bungled up this world beyond comprehension. Everything that is programmed into the mind of irrational man is distorted, falsified. When I say everything, I mean everything. Everything from basic arithmetic to advanced mathematics, everything from elementary science to quantum mechanics, everything that is taught in our schools and universities; history, psychology, economics, sociology, biology etc. Everything has been falsified. We live in a fantasy world that cannot be sustained. The world as we know it is now falling apart, coming to an end.

The sad part about a deluded person is that such a person cannot know that he is deluded. If he knew that he is deluded, it follows that he is not deluded, a contradiction, rendering the word "deluded" meaningless. A deluded person cannot know anything, least of all that he is irrational. The ONLY way a deluded person can restore his rationality, is for such a person to accept in FAITH that he is deluded. Once he acknowledges in faith that he is deluded, it opens the door for transformation, restoration.

About morality

Virtues and Values

"Wherefore, my dearly beloved, flee from idolatry."

Can morality be taught ? Is it possible to educate society in order to improve the moral fiber of society ? Can we teach a person values, so that a person become a better person? Is the world in such a mess because of a lack of education ? Should we continue to indoctrinate the masses, for the 'good' of all ? The answer to all these questions is an emphatic; No !

Natural man is corrupted, immoral. All the 'education' in the world will not change anything. The answer to all our problems can be found in the message according to the Gospel. The renewal(restoration) of the mind.

When man loses his identity, he becomes separated from reality. He becomes a fallen angel, separated from his Creator. Fallen man is referred to as natural man. Everything natural man perceives is valued according to natural man likes(wants) and dislikes(don't wants). He is totally subjective, removed from the real world.

Morality is a characteristic of a spiritual mindset. The mindset of a person who has been converted from a natural person, to a spiritual person. The only way for natural man to regain his morality is by conversion. His morality needs to be restored by means of transformation. Natural man is immoral, irrational, corrupted., As long as he is not converted, he remains deluded, and he has an irrational mindset.

Virtues are moral attributes. Values are carnal attributes. Virtues are characteristic of a rational(spiritual) human being. Values are characteristic of a irrational(natural) human being. Virtues are absolute , values are relative. Virtues are inherent, values are imposed. Virtues are objective(real), values are subjective(superficial). The virtue "love", differs from the value 'love', in the sense that the value 'love', has another component, 'hate'. Values are dualistic, virtues are holistic. The value 'love' is also 'hate'. Like Orwell put it: " love is hate ".

Emotions are value responses, feelings derived from idolatry. Feelings cannot be trusted. Idolatry is the act of removing the part, from the whole, and then making the removed part, a new 'whole', an idol. Idolatry comes from separation, from separating part of reality, from reality. When part of reality is removed from reality, it becomes not reality(fantasy). Idolatry is the result of a distorted perception, a delusion. Putting a plus, or minus value, on something that is not real. Idolatry always implies that there is more, or less, than One.

Be prepared, the world as we know it is in a state of collapse. Soon there will be a new heaven(Spirit) and a new earth(Perception). The harvest is ripe.

About my second coming The Prophetess

"It was long past midnight and the calendar said: August 6, but it seemed to her suddenly that she saw September 2 (11) written above the city (New York) in letters of blood...."

*"You who are the worshipers of zero - you have never discovered that achieving life is not the equivalent of avoiding death."
Ayn Rand "Atlas Shrugged "*

One of the most prophetic books of recent times is Ayn Rand's "Atlas Shrugged". The book was written in the late fifties, and describes how the world as we know it, comes to an end. In the light of recent developments, the novel was prophetic, the time has come.

Ayn Rand's novel of how the world system collapses is not without its flaws, however the remarkable insight she had at the time, is clearly reflected as the novel progresses through a period of twelve years.

The main theme of the novel is that the world is maintained by rational man, and that the only solution for this corrupt world, is for rational man to go on strike; to stop supporting an irrational world, and let the present world system collapse. The main character, "John Galt", remains in the background, and does not openly come into the picture, until the end of the novel, when he makes his appearance, and the system collapses.

The major flaw of the novel is that Ayn Rand believed that natural man could behave rationally, by an act of will. She believed that it was possible for natural man (irrational man), to be rational, without having to be converted. In other words, she did not proclaim the message according to the gospel, even although she was converted. She was a profoundly spiritual person with some minor misconceptions. Unfortunately these misconceptions caused her many heartaches, and problems, in her personal life.

Ayn Rand proclaimed to be an atheist. In the sense that she did not believe in the 'God' of this world, she was right. Any person who has read her novels, will know that she was indeed a prophetess. The titles of her three main novels: "We The Living", "Atlas Shrugged", and "The Fountainhead", tells it all.

In summary then: " Atlas Shrugged " is a novel that predicted the second coming of the Son of man, and the subsequent collapse of the corrupt world system. Those who have been waiting for her prediction to come true, will not be disappointed.

" We started with no time limit in view, said Galt. We did not know whether we'd live to see the liberation of the world or whether we'd have to leave our battle and our secret to the next generation.....But now we think that we will see , and soon,the day of our victory and our return." Ayn Rand -"Atlas Shrugged"

About conviction

The Jehovah's Witnesses

"Even thus shall it be in the day when the Son of man is revealed."

One group of people who dedicate their lives to the spreading of the gospel, is the Jehovah's Witnesses. They are not ashamed to proclaim the message in the streets, from door to door. The result of this is that they are often ridiculed, and most people regard them as a 'nuisance'.

Although there are errors in the doctrine of the Jehovah's Witnesses, they are closer to the reality than the vast majority of religious organizations. The movement was started by Charles Russel who conducted a small Bible study group. In 1872 the International Bible Students Association was formed, the Jehovah's Witnesses is an outgrowth of the Association.

Russel was a devout student of the Bible, and based on his study of the book of Daniel, he predicted that the second coming of the Son of man, would take place in 1914. Today the Jehovah's Witnesses still believe that the 'spiritual' second coming took place in 1914, and that it was 'a turning point' in the history of the world.

The error in the prediction that Russel made, was in calculating the date from the time that the Jews were banished from Jerusalem, instead of calculating from the time that the Jews returned 537 BC, to restore the Holy City. This means that Russel miscalculated by seventy years.

The turning point came in 1984 as prophesied in Luke 2 verse 37. The prophetess Anna, was four score and four years of age. This date was the time of the beginning of the end of the world as we know it. The beginning of the "end time" .

The end time was ushered in when the two witnesses, the written Word, and the spoken Word, prophesied that the present world is about to come to an end. The prophesy came to an end in 1988, at which time the world as we know it started to collapse. All that still remains is for the Revelation of the Son of man to take place. The faithful witness(the two witnesses) where resurrected on May 17, 2004, and the world was judged on the 31st July, 2004. The harvest is now being gathered so that the Son of man can be revealed.

About Hitler

Mark of the beast

*"And he caused all,
both small and great,
rich and poor,
free and bond,
to receive a mark in their right hand, or in their foreheads. "*

There is a great deal of speculation about the beast, the image of the beast, and the mark of the beast. The beast is natural man. The image of the beast is the computer/calculator. The mark of the beast is the German swastika. The swastika portrays the distortion(shift) that has taken place in the mind of man.

When man falls from grace, soon after birth, a shift takes place in his mind. Existence(one/all) is moved, to make room for non existence(zero/nothing). From this moment on, man's mind is distorted, he becomes deluded, double minded. Natural man is irrational, he fabricates a fantasy world which is totally divorced from the real world. This shift has a profound effect on the life of man and the world we live in.

The mark of the beast is the symbol which signifies the shift(distortion) that has taken place in the mind of man. The mark of the beast is derived from the time clock. Conceptually the one is moved one position to the right, to make room for the zero. Fig 1 shows how the clock face looks before the shift has taken place. Fig 2 shows the clock face after the shift has taken place. The twelve is a convenient number because it hides the zero. The military time system starts with zero hour and ends with twenty three hours. Each number on the clock face represent a line (not duration), instead of a hour, which is duration(extension).

This means instead of reading duration(time), natural man reads the division lines(not time). The practical implication is that instead of reading the time as "the third hour and the tenth minute"(3:10), we distort reality by saying: 'it is nine minutes past two'(2:09).

"And it was about the sixth hour, and there was a darkness over all the earth until the ninth hour " Luke 23:44

The present day clock is an extension of natural man, it is the mark of the beast. It is no coincidence that Hitler(Apollyon) chose the swastika as his trademark(symbol).

About false hope

Fallacy of the rapture

"I tell you, in that night there shall be two 'men' in one bed:
the one shall be taken,
and the other shall be left."

There are those who believe that a 'rapture' is going to take place. The 'rapture', refers to a belief that is widely held amongst those who refer to themselves as 'Christians' and are not Christians.

The word "rapture", means "a state of being carried away with joy" (Webster's). It is true that the believers are going to experience a rapture when the revelation takes place. This rapture, is something completely different from what most 'Christians' have in mind.

Most 'Christians' believe that they are literally going to disappear from the face of the earth when the 'rapture' takes place. All those who believe this are in for a rude awakening. When the Son of man came the first time, he said the following:

"I tell you, in that night there shall be two 'men' in one bed: the one shall be taken, and the other shall be left."

Does this mean that there will be literally two men in one bed? Surely not. The word, "men" is in a different type setting, it is in inverted commas. This means the Son of man was referring to non-believers. He was saying that the duality is going to be taken away, at the time of the revelation.

Natural man is a dualistic being, he has a dual identity. There is his true identity, which is suppressed, and then there is his false identity, which prevails as long as he remains deluded. Natural man is in effect two 'men', he is 'man' and 'not man', at the same time.

When natural man is converted, the duality is taken away, and he becomes spiritual man. Spiritual man is not pure, however he is in a position where it is possible for him to be cleansed. Spiritual man is "bathed", converted, and all that is required is for his "feet" to be washed, so that he may be cleansed.

About reality

" They Live "

*"And before him shall be gathered all nations:
and he shall separate them one from another,
as a shepherd divideth his sheep from the goats:
And he shall set the sheep on his right hand,
but the goats on the left."*

In a previous message I wrote about the duality of this world. A movie that portrays the duality very dramatically, is the movie "They Live." Those of you who have not seen this movie, should see it, or download the video clips from our website.

The movie conveys a number of messages. I will briefly outline the messages without going into the details of the story. Those of you who can resist the temptation, can continue to read this message, after you have seen the movie.

Some Believers, are extremely naive, although deep inside they know the truth, they keep on pretending that this world is not "all that bad". They make all kinds of excuses to shy away from the world as it is.

Some Believers, have a great resistance for change, they will fight as if their lives depend on it, in order to avoid change. They are always willing to submit themselves to the comforting words of a 'friend', but when a real friend tries to help them, they resist.

Some Believers, tend to opt for the use of force, when they feel threatened. They are afraid of being persecuted, They forget that the message according to the gospel makes it clear that believers cannot escape persecution. There are those of us who believe that we should defend ourselves by means of firearms, instead of using the Word.

Some Believers, are often involved with non-believers. They do not fully realize how deceptive non-believers are. In the end of the movie, there is a scene in which a Believer is intimately involved with a non-Believer. When the revelation takes place, the Believer is shocked by the realization.

Non-believers that see the movie will think that the movie portrays a world that is invaded by 'aliens' from another planet :-) It is not possible for non-believers to know that what they are seeing, is a portrayal of our world as it is. Only when the 'machine' is destroyed, will they come to face reality:

The 'machine' is about to be destroyed.

"THEY LIVE" Review By Geoffrey Attwood.

It is often claimed that "life imitates art", but in the case of John Carpenter's vivid classic film, They Live, the opposite is true. This is definitely a film where the art of the finished product is taken from the realities of modern western society.

On a simplistic level, the basic tenor of the screenplay is one where our hero, Rowdy (played by the wrestler Roddy Piper), stumbles across a box of dark glasses which, when worn, expose an alien life form existing within the indigenous population. Very soon, they realize that their plan to dominate and completely take over the planet and its resources has been exposed by Rowdy. His mission now becomes an attempt to spread the realities of life among other members of society whilst evading capture by the aliens who want to silence him.

If this was all there was to the film, then the most one could say was that here is a moderately passable movie of the sort that was churned out in the 40's and 50's. However, this film is much more than a simple earthlings vs aliens potboiler! Indeed, it is a complete exposure of the realities of western capitalist society. The aliens are not from some far flung Galaxy, and neither is the film set in a futuristic America. They exist at this moment, here and now. Your next-door neighbor could be one, or that charming couple across the road. People in authority who have become the servants of the economics of capitalism - these are the aliens exposed by the dark glasses of political awareness. This is the message in Carpenter's film. Adverts become commands to buy, dollar bills have the logo "profit" imprinted and people are subliminally extolled to conform and obey. If you saw the film when it was released in 1988 (or if you have never seen the film before), then please give They Live a whirl. Remember, of course, to wear your dark glasses on the way home!

About retribution

Capital Punishment

*"Ye are of 'your' father the devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do.
He was a murderer from the beginning.."*

Capital punishment is when the state terminates the life of an individual who has been found guilty of killing another person. The 'penalty' for breaking the law is to remove the individual from society. The state is applying a principle that it promotes through its educational system. The principle is the idea that two wrongs make a right. That a minus times a minus, is a plus. The idea that retribution is in the hands of the state, that the state is the supreme authority over human life.

Believers know that 'capital punishment' is wrong. It is wrong because a criminal act is not a cause, it is a symptom. A person does not become a murderer when he kills somebody, the act of killing another person is an expression of the nature of fallen man. Natural man is a murderer. Murder is a symptom of a corrupted mindset.

Capital punishment is natural man's way of saying: 'I do not accept the message according to the gospel'. Natural man believes that a person's behavior, determines what a person is. In reality, what a person is, determines his behavior.

Natural man believes that a person can 'choose' between what is right, and what is wrong. Natural man is evil, he does not 'choose' to be evil, his behavior is irrational by default. Natural man will argue that because a person has a 'choice' between what is right, and what is wrong, a person should be punished for making the 'wrong' decision. This is natural man's excuse for committing atrocities.

About Deception

False Christ

*"Beloved, believe not every spirit, but try the spirits whether they are of God:
because many false prophets are gone out into the world."*

This is my response to a book that uses my previous name(Jesus), as a means to promote false information about the impending universal transformation(world crisis).

The title of the book is " Dimensional Shift "

The objective of my response is to expose the false information promoted by the so called consciousness gurus.

The so called pseudo Christians have there own versions.

I suggest the the reader displays the PDF format on the same page as this page for easy reference.

I will refrain from going into all the details in each chapter.

My comment refer to that which is blatantly in conflict with the message according to the gospel.

" The guidance of Jesus Christ on the threshold of global transformation."

My response to ' Acknowledgment'.

There is no need to thank me for 'the opportunity to be His spokesman'.

I have returned as promised, I speak for myself, no need for a 'spokesman'.
There can be no 'preparation' for a 'journey', there is no 'journey', there is only judgment, now is the time of judgment.
I am here to separate the infidels, from those who know me.
Those who reject me bring condemnation upon themselves.
Now is the time of the great separation. I am here to complete my task, to remove the curse, it is payback time.

To equate 'adventure' with judgment is a grave error.

My response to: ' Introduction'.

To get some perspective of the verbal diarrhea poured out in this section it is important to come to grips with the idea of 'channeling'.
Channeling is an attempt to communicate a specific false doctrine, a fabrication of the irrational mindset, to the masses.
Some person in high standing is used to give credibility to the message, in this case, the so called 'Christ'. The message is received by the channeled, in this case Dorothy, and then disseminated, in this case Les.

The opening sentence has a ring of truth, I do have a new name, "Duke", see Revelation 19:12.
There is no 'evolution', only judgment, this is the only way that the curse can be removed.
There is no 'project', a person cannot be 'worthy',
no 'higher dimension', no 'expanded state of mind',
no 'development', no 'higher consciousness'.
There is only an absolute state of mind, rational or irrational.
A converted(restored) person, or an irrational(deluded) person.

It is not possible for a sinner to 'open their eyes and discover the light within', there is no light within, only darkness.
This is why a person needs to die spiritually, before he can be resurrected to a new life, to become born again.
Once a person is resurrected(born again), his rationality is restored and the irrationality that was imposed on him by the world system dies.

My response to: ' Preparation for the changes '.

These are the "last days", the days of judgment.
The so called 'wonderful transformation'(Judgment), is a joy for the believers, and a crisis for the non believers.
Only the believers can be purified, the non believers are going to suffer the second death, there is no escape.
The Kingdom is already established, all the that remains, is for the present system to self destruct, which is now happening.
I am now exposing all the lies that permeate the earth.

The paragraph starting with ' My answer is simple.. ' . is hilarious, it is even more far fetched that the fabrications of the pseudo Christians.

Only a person that is born again is able to open his heart and be cleansed.
A person that is not born again, rejects me, he does not know me.
Somewhere a line had to be drawn, my return has ushered in the beginning of a new heaven(spirit), and a new earth(perception).

My response to: ' The essentials of selection '

This chapter should of been called " The essentials of judgment " .
Some fallacies in this section:
It is not a question of 'knowledge', of 'learning', or of 'evolving', it is a question of mindset.
An irrational person cannot choose to be rational, free will is a fallacy.
He is irrational by default, he has fallen from grace, he is delusional.
His mind is disconnected from reality, he is a sinner.
When I came the first time I was crucified because I am the truth.
At the time I made is clear that unless a person spiritually dies to this world, he cannot enter the Kingdom(real world).

It is true that "nobody judges you", you bring judgment upon yourself by the act of rejecting the truth(me).

Response to: ' The theater of the soul '

It is clear that this pseudo Christ is full of wants and must's.
Something else that come out clearly is that the new 'Christ' is caught up in the vicious circle of the duality.

The fallacy that stands out in this section, is once more the idea that a person can know that he is deluded, blind to reality.

The idea that a person can simply choose to be righteous.

The irrational mindset cannot be transformed, unless the person accepts in faith that he is irrational.

If it where possible for him to know that he is deluded, he cannot be deluded, the concept(delusion), will lose it's meaning. Faith is a vital element in the process of individual transformation.

My response to: ' Carrying the light within '

The so called 'light within' is not a higher frequency of consciousness, it is an different state of being.
It is like a light switch, "on"(connected), or "off " (disconnected).

My response to: ' In the doorway of transformation '

The universal transformation that is coming will come, because the curse(irrational mindset) will be exposed.

It is true that judgment(selection) will bring about the transformation, whether a person likes it or not.

The judgment is now taking place, as I write this message.

The chapter contains a great deal of mambo jumbo in an attempt to fabricate an alternative gospel, a new age gospel.

The urgency of the impending world crisis is however prevalent.

My response to: ' The course of the dimensional shift '

In this chapter 'Jesus' tells us what the dimensional shift is.

Quote: ' The essence of the dimensional shift is the transition of Earth to a higher energy plane after the adaptation of a higher frequency. This higher energy plane is called the new dimension.'

So what this means is that the transformation that is coming, is not a change of the mindset, but a shift to a higher energy plane.

This then is the doctrine of the evolution of consciousness.

Pure unadulterated science fiction.

In reality, transformation is the restoration of the rational mindset.

My response to: ' In the moment of the leap '

Mambo Jumbo, similar to the pseudo Christian fantasies.

My response to: ' Life on the new earth '

It is true that everything will change drastically, however, the details of the new earth is pure speculation.

My response to: ' Guidance '

This section is a total distortion of reality.

It exposes the skewed perception of the consciousness guru.

Example: 'Always seek balance '

There can be no 'balance' between, reason(good), and irrationality(evil).

The rational mindset and the irrational mindset are two totally different states of being, absolutes.

The reality is that once a person is transformed(restored - born again), he is guided by the Holy Spirit, the spirit of reason, of unity.

He needs no 'guidance' from any other person.

"Dimensional Shift" is a sham

A last word about Christianity.

Christianity is a state of being, not a religion.

A person becomes a Christian when his mind is restored, not when he 'Gives his heart to Jesus', and becomes a member of some or other church, or group.

The religion called 'Christianity' belongs to the pseudo Christians.

About the revelation mystery

The Two Witnesses

*"And I will give power unto my two witnesses, and they shall prophesy
a thousand two hundred and threescore days, clothed in sackcloth."*

Who are the two witnesses ? There has been much speculation about them, some believe that it was Moses and Elijah. Chapter 11 of the book of Revelation speaks about the two witnesses, most people do not realize that the two witnesses are also mentioned in the Old testament. Before I reveal who the two witnesses are in the next Chapter, the reader first needs to read the Old Testament description of the two witnesses.

The book of the prophet Zechariah

Chapter 4

1. And the angel that talked with me came again, and walked with me, as a man that is wakened out of his sleep,

2. And said unto me, What seest thou ? And I said, I have looked, and behold a candlestick all of gold, with a bowl on the top of it, and his seven lamps thereon, and seven pipes to the seven lamps, which are upon the top thereof:

3. And two olive trees by it, one upon the right side of the bowl, and the other upon the left side thereof.

4. So I answered and spake to the angel that talked with me, saying, What are these my lord ?

5. Then the angel that talked with me answered and said unto me, Knowest thou not what these be ? And I said, No my lord.

6. Then he answered and spake unto me, saying, This is the word of the Lord unto Zerubbabel saying, Not by might, nor by power, but be my spirit, saith the Lord of hosts.

7. Who art thou, O great mountain ? before Zerubbabel thou shalt become a plain; and he shall bring forth the headstone thereof with shoutings, crying Grace, grace unto it.

8. Moreover the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

9. The hands of Zerubbabel have laid the foundation of this house; his hands shall also finish it; and thou shalt know that the Lord of hosts hath sent me unto you.

10. For who hath despised the day of small things ? for they shall rejoice, and see the plummet in the hand of Zerubbabel with those seven; they are the eyes of the Lord, which run to and fro through the whole earth.

11. The answered I, and said unto him, what are these two olive trees upon the right side of the candlestick and upon the left side thereof ?

12. And I answered again, and said unto him, What be these two olive branches which through the two golden pipes empty the golden oil out of themselves ?

13. And he answered me and said, Knowest thou not what these be? And I said no, my lord.

14. Then said he, these are the two anointed one's that stand by the Lord of the whole earth.

About the Revelation

Revelation 19

1 And after these things I heard a great voice of much people in heaven, saying, Alleluia; Salvation, and glory, and honour, and power, unto the Lord our God:

2 For true and righteous are his judgments: for he hath judged the great whore, which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, and hath avenged the blood of his servants at her hand.

3 And again they said, Alleluia. And her smoke rose up for ever and ever.

4 And the four and twenty elders and the four beasts fell down and worshiped God that sat on the throne, saying, Amen; Alleluia.

5 And a voice came out of the throne, saying, Praise our God, all ye his servants, and ye that fear him, both small and great.

6 And I heard as it were the voice of a great multitude, and as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of mighty thunderings, saying, Alleluia: for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth.

7 Let us be glad and rejoice, and give honour to him: for the marriage of the Lamb is come, and his wife hath made herself ready.

8 And to her was granted that she should be arrayed in fine linen, clean and white: for the fine linen is the righteousness of saints.

9 And he saith unto me, Write, Blessed are they which are called unto the marriage supper of the Lamb. And he saith unto me, These are the true sayings of God.

10 And I fell at his feet to worship him. And he said unto me, See thou do it not: I am thy fellow servant, and of thy brethren that have the testimony of Jesus: worship God: for the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy.

11 And I saw heaven opened, and behold a white horse; and he that sat upon him was called Faithful and True, and in righteousness he doth judge and make war.

12 His eyes were as a flame of fire, and on his head were many crowns; and he had a name written, that no man knew, but he himself. (My emphasis)

13 And he was clothed with a vesture dipped in blood: and his name is called The Word of God. (my emphasis)

14 And the armies which were in heaven followed him upon white horses, clothed in fine linen, white and clean.

15 And out of his mouth goeth a sharp sword, that with it he should smite the nations: and he shall rule them with a rod of iron: and he treadeth the wine press of the fierceness and wrath of Almighty God.

16 And he hath on his vesture and on his thigh a name written, KING OF KINGS, AND LORD OF LORDS.

17 And I saw an angel standing in the sun; and he cried with a loud voice, saying to all the fowls that fly in the midst of heaven, Come and gather yourselves together unto the supper of the great God;

18 That ye may eat the flesh of kings, and the flesh of captains, and the flesh of mighty men, and the flesh of horses, and of them that sit on them, and the flesh of all men, both free and bond, both small and great.

19 And I saw the beast, and the kings of the earth, and their armies, gathered together to make war against him that sat on the horse, and against his army.

20 And the beast was taken, and with him the false prophet that wrought miracles before him, with which he deceived them that had received the mark of the beast, and them that worshipped his image. These both were cast alive into a lake of fire burning with brimstone.

21 And the remnant were slain with the sword of him that sat upon the horse, which sword proceeded out of his mouth: and all the fowls were filled with their flesh.

He prophesied for 1260 day's dressed in sackcloth.

The prophecy took place in San Antonio,

About the future

What to expect

We read from the Second book of Esdras:

Chapter 13

29 Behold, the days come, when the most High will begin to deliver them that are upon the earth.

30 And he shall come to the astonishment of them that dwell on the earth.

31 And one shall undertake to fight against another, one city against another, one place against another, one people against another, and one realm against another.

32 And the time shall be when these things shall come to pass, and the signs shall happen which I shewed thee before, and then shall my Son be declared, whom thou sawest as a man ascending.

34 And an innumerable multitude shall be gathered together, as thou sawest them, willing to come, and to overcome him by fighting.

36 And Sion shall come, and shall be shewed to all men, being prepared and builded, like as thou sawest the hill graven without hands.

37 And this my Son shall rebuke the wicked inventions of those nations, which for their wicked life are fallen into the tempest;

38 And shall lay before them their evil thoughts, and the torments wherewith they shall begin to be tormented, which are like unto a flame: and he shall destroy them without labour by the law which is like unto me.

40 Those are the ten tribes, which were carried away prisoners out of their own land in the time of Osea the king, whom Salmanasar the king of Assyria led away captive, and he carried them over the waters, and so came they into another land.

41 But they took this counsel among themselves, that they would leave the multitude of the heathen, and go forth into a further country, where never mankind dwelt.

" For here's what I'm going to do: I'm going to take you out of these countries, gather you from all over, and bring you back to your own land. I'll pour pure water over you and scrub you clean. I'll give you a new heart, put a new spirit in you. I'll remove the stone heart from your body and replace it with a heart that's God-willed, not self-willed. I'll put my Spirit in you and make it possible for you to do what I tell you and live by my commands. You'll once again live in the land I gave your ancestors. You'll be my people! I'll be your God! " Ezekiel:24-28 (MSG)
